COLDEST WEATHER OF WINTER ROLLED THROUGH TEXAS

PORT ARTHUR AND HOUSTON REPORT SUB-FREEZING TEMPERATURES

By The Associated Press.

Unadorned winter weather bearing the coldest temperatures of the season rolled southward through the state today.

Very little of the snow or sleet predicted for the fifth cold wave of the winter was in sight, but mercuries declined as low as 15 degrees and went below freezing at Port Arthur and Houston and along the coast.

The 15-degree weather was visited upon Paris but a warm sun was getting in its licks. Gainesville reported 15 degrees, two points lower than the previous low for the season. Other record lows for the season were: Denton and Sherman, 17; Tyler and Wichita Falls 18, Dallas 19, Corsicana and Abilene 20, Palestine 21.5, big Spring and Austin, 25, and Houston 27. Llano reported 17 degrees.

The Rio Grande Valley's citrus crops escaped damage. At Brownsville temperatures in the protected area went to 48. Coastal Corpus Christi's low was 38.

Fort Worth temperatures went to 19.1 and were rising. The Northwest Texas cities of Amarillo and Lubbock were not greatly impressed with temperatures of 19 degrees. A few snow flakes fell on the South Plains metropolis.

San Angelo reported minor lamb losses in its territory, where temperatures hit 25. Livestock came through without damage. Borger reported 23 degrees, Vernon 22 degrees. Other reports: San Antonio 30, Galveston 32, Del Rio 36, El Paso 44.

Winter Settles In Large Part Nation

By The Associated Press.

Winter settled with deeper cold through the south, east and west today, with snow and sub-freezing temperatures in many cities from Amarillo, Tex., to the Atlantic, and a renewal of the biting winds which have harassed upper New York state.

New York City's weather was cold and the forecast was for even more frigid weather. The temperature tonight was expected to drop to 15.

A 52-mile-an-hour wind blew across Buffalo and parts of western New York, piling up fresh snowdrifts.

Deaths, attributed directly or indirectly to the weather, stood at 21 for the past few days—five in the South, eight in New York state and eight in Pennsylvania.

Upstate New York roads were blocked as winds whipped snow back into places which had been cleared. Niagara Falls closed its schools because of the cold, and in Buffalo falling heat and light

IN MARITAL REARRANGEMENT

Ira Ashcroft, 54, is shown in Claremont, Calif., with his new wife, the former Mrs. Louise Voss, 27, who divorced her 30-year-old school principal husband, John, to wed Ashcroft. Ashcroft's former wife married Voss and all participants said they were satisfied with the new arrangement.

Mother and Five Small Children Burned to Death

OREGON, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The charred bodies of Mrs. Glenn Large, 27, and her five small children, burned to death in a fire that destroyed their farm home near here, were taken from the ruins today.

The flames had spread through the two-story structure last night before the seven members of the family awoke.

Large, 31, suffered burns about the face and arms in a vain attempt to rescue his family, whose escape down a stairway was cut off by flames. Large opened a window leading to an icy porch roof and told his wife to pass the children to him. Before she could do so he slipped and fell to the ground. He was unable to climb back.

The children were Donna May, 2 1-2 years old; Jack, 3; John, 5; Darlene, 7, and Louis, 8.

FIREMEN RECOVER NINE BODIES FROM TENEMENT RUINS

SEVEN CHILDREN AMONG THOSE PERISHING IN KNOXVILLE FIRE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Firemen dug the bodies of nine victims—seven of them children—from the ruins of a flame-razed tenement house early today.

A long search of the ruins failed to reveal any other victims in the old, two-story structure described by Fire Chief C. M. Johnson as a "fire trap."

The dead:

Mrs. McKinley Connatser, 35, and three of her children, Virginia, 6; Vallee, 4, and Luther, 12.

Mrs. Cora Tate, 56; her son, Eugene, 17, and her three grandsons, R. L. Melton, 12; Junior Melton, 6, and James Earl Melton, 9.

Fire swept the building shortly after midnight and trapped the victims as they slept. Twenty-two other occupants, most of them children, ran or jumped to safety.

Gordon Tate, 22, son of Mrs. Tate, said from a hospital bed that he escaped by jumping from a second-story window. He received only minor bruises.

"The others were to have followed me," he sobbed. "I jumped and thought they were coming but they didn't. They must have been trapped before they could get to the window."

The blaze apparently started on the second floor, possibly from a defective flue, firemen said.

McKinley Connatser, 34, husband and father of four victims, seized his five-months-old son, R. C. Connatser, and jumped from a second-story window.

"I screamed for my wife to follow me," Connatser, a newspaper vendor, said. "But she couldn't get to the window with the other children, I suppose.

"I kept waiting for them to jump. It was terrible."

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wright and their children, Lucille, 3, and Franklin, 1, were injured and were taken to a hospital but they were not believed badly hurt.

Dallas Robbers Now Demanding Curb Service

DALLAS, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Police raised their eyebrows today at the appearance of curb-service banditry.

A man drove a truck to a sandwich shop and handed a car hop a note. It instructed him to place the cash register contents in a paper sack (forehandedly provided by the bandit) and return it to him.

Under threat of a gun the car hop delivered the note to his employer inside, who put $9 in the sack and sent it to the waiting robber, who drove away.

The truck, which had been stolen, was found—but man and money were missing.

FARMERS URGED TO ORGANIZE PRESERVE FREEDOM FT. WORTH

REPORT RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE OCCUPIES TEXAS AGRICULTURAL MEET

FORT WORTH, Dec. 9.—(AP)—A woman farm leader from Urbana, Ill., today urged a convention of Texas agriculturists to organize to preserve their freedom.

Mrs. Elsie Mies, representative of the Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said the American farmer "too long has acted the role of the rugged individualist" and must catch a vision of world agricultural activities.

Mrs. Mies was the first speaker before the fourth annual convention of the Texas Agricultural Association.

Sessions opened at 9 a. m. with about 500 farmers present. Between 1,500 and 2,000 are expected during the three-day meeting.

The meeting was called to order by H. G. Lucas, Brownwood, president, and heard the report of its resolutions committee, which stressed these points:

1. Farm crop parity payments, particularly on cotton both for domestic and foreign markets, to offset the present tariff restrictions.

2. Unqualified opposition to the domestic allotment plan of State Agriculture Commissioner McDonald.

3. Compulsory crop production control as a step toward maintaining farm product prices at the proper level.

4. That consideration be given to soil type, farm facilities and topography in base acreage allotments under any control plan.

5. That congress be reminded of its promise to place farm and legislation ahead of political measures.

Discussion of the committee's report still was in progress at noon.

Urged Catch Vision.

Mrs. Mies urged farmers to catch a vision of world agricultural activities and determine to organize their program.

"Too long the farmer has acted the role of the rugged individualist, for his salvation now is not in pioneering a new country x x x but in organizing and joining hands with others of the farming sections to preserve what he has left," declared Mrs. Mies.

"With modern transportation, newspapers and radio at his service the farmer's home is no longer just a little patch of ground with a fence around it. He is as much a citizen of the nation and must keep pace with affairs if his share in the nation's commonwealth is to be preserved."

Later today the convention was to hear Samuel Thompson, pioneer farmer of Quincy, Ill. Election of officers also was scheduled. Lucas announced he would not be a candidate for re-election. C. H. Day, Plainview, vice president and organization director, is mentioned as a possible successor.

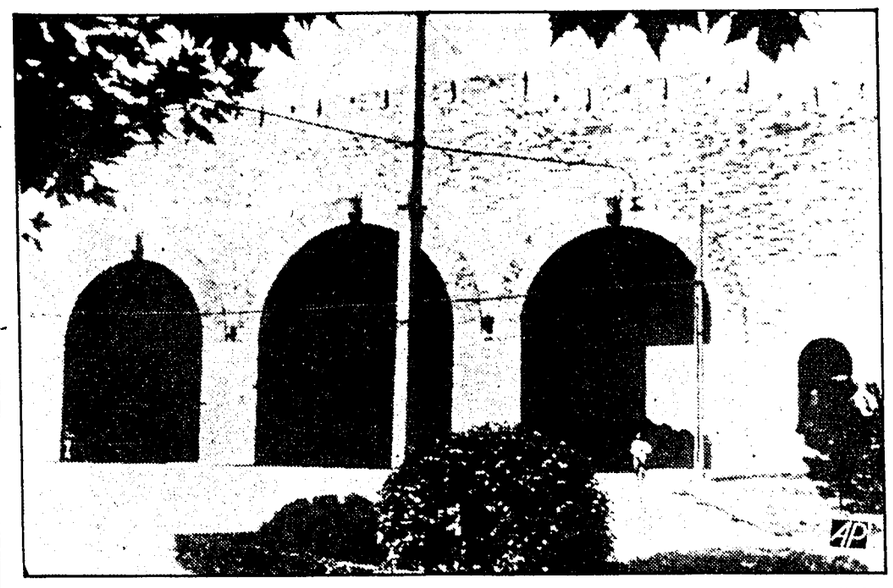

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock the annual Community Home evening of the association will be held.

Rugged Suppressor Of Terrorism Will Reorganize Police

JERUSALEM, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Sir Charles Tegart, Britain's rugged suppressor of terrorism in India, arrived today to start reorganization of Palestine's police forces on the 20th anniversary of General Viscount Allenby's triumphal entry of Jerusalem.

The Holy Land was quiet after an unsuccessful attempt yesterday to sabotage communications and a pipeline. Two bombs were thrown then but they did not explode.

JAPANESE KNOCK AT GATES OF ANCIENT CAPITAL

The gates to Nanking (above) were locked as Japanese planes bombarded the city and troops assaulted the fortifications of the ancient Chinese capital. Japanese officials stated they expected an early capture.

CHINESE ARE STILL HOLDING NANKING IN FACE JAP INVADERS

CHINESE ARTILLERY HAMMERING STEADILY AS THE TROOPS CLOSING IN

NANKING, Dec. 9.—(7 p. m.-6 a.m. EST) — (AP)—Japanese aerial attackers pounded this capital of China all day long, but tonight Chinese still held positions around the city.

Chinese defense artillery hammered steadily at the Japanese closing in from the south and southeast.

Thus far the Japanese have been able to bring only their lightest artillery into play against the capital defenses.

NANKING—10 a. m. Thursday, 9 p. m., Wednesday, S. E. T.—(AP)—The American embassy has notified all Americans remaining in besieged Nanking of the Japanese warning, transmitted through Shanghai consular officials, for all foreign nationals to evacuate Nanking without delay.

It was understood the American embassy had given Japanese authorities names and addresses of Americans remaining within Nanking and also requested that in case of need, appropriate protection be given them.

(Latest advices said there were 17 Americans remaining in Nanking.)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Japanese command issued an ultimatum today demanding the surrender of China's abandoned capital, Nanking, by noon Friday (11 p. m. Thursday, EST) and threatening that otherwise the city "will become the scene of the horrors of war."

The ultimatum was issued by Gen. Iwane Matsui, commander of the Japanese forces in the Shanghai-Nanking area, to the Chinese commander, Gen. Tang Seng-Chi.

A Japanese warplane dropped a further communication to Nanking.

"Abandonment of resistance will spare the city, its historic relics and spots of beauty," it promised.

Japanese tanks were reported to have entered the southeast gate of Nanking, and the Japanese army spokesman predicted the capture of the city within 24 hours.

The spokesman declared Chinese still were resisting and added that there would be a major

Corsicana Stores Are Crowded Daily Holiday Shoppers

With only two weeks remaining before Christmas, shopping rushes are rapidly becoming regular occurences in Corsicana as young and old alike prepare for the approaching visit of Santa Claus.

Weather typical of the traditional holiday season has failed to hinder residents of this territory and from early in the morning until dark parking places are difficult to find and the salespeople in all of the stores are busy.

Even at night when the air is too chilly to be quite comfortable, dozens of cars can be seen cruising through the business district, ablaze with holiday lights, window shopping. Many others brave the weather to locate items to their fancy at closer range as they walk along the sidewalks.

Santa Cleus himself is scheduled to be in Corsicana again Saturday on another of his preliminary visits and will be available for conferences with the younger generations all through the business area.

COUNSEL NATIONAL LABOR BOARD HITS AT MANUFACTURERS

INDUSTRIALISTS HAD URGED MODIFICATION FEDERAL MEASURES

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Modification of the national labor relations act in favor of employers was vigorously opposed today by Charles Fahy, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, in an outspoken "labor clinic" session with three thousand industrial leaders at the National Association of Manufacturers convention.

Those industrialists present who had hoped for an "olive branch"—some gesture that could be interpreted as willingness of the administration to "soften" its labor policy, found no comfort in Fahy's comments, although he made it plan he spoke only for himself. Toward the end, Fahy said:

"You want to impose on them (labor unions) a more drastic regulation. You advocate putting unions out of business."

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Strikes cost this country around five billion dollars, or between $160 to $175 per family, in 1937 "the worst and most costly period of labor turmoil in our history," Ernest T. Weir, chairman of National Steel Corp., told American business leaders today.

Farm Cash Income Shows Good Gain Over Last Season

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics estimated today the cash income of American farmers during the first ten months of 1937 was approximately $751,000,000 above income for the same period last year.

It estimated the total income, including government paymnts, at $7,087,000,000 this year compared with $6,336,000,000 last year. California led other states with a total estimated farm income of $521,531,000 for the first ten months this year compared with $471,531,000 last year. Texas had $414,249,000 and $349,806,000.

FIND BODY PRETTY MISSING BROOKLYN DANCER IN FRANCE

GERMAN EMIGREE ADMITS HER MURDER AND THAT OF FOUR MEN

VERSAILLES, France, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The body of pretty 22-year-old Jean De [illegible], Brooklyn dancer missing since last July, was found today buried under the porch of a St. Cloud villa to which police were directed by a 29-year old German emigre.

The emigre, police said, confessed slaying her and four men because he needed money.

The body of Miss DeKoven was found under water in two feet of hard clay.

The police said the confessed slayer was Eugene Weidmann who had come to France last March to escape German military service. He led investigators to the suburban villa outside Paris, saying that two of his men victims were buried there.

Police found a second body in a shallow grave in the cellar. It was identified as that of Arthur Frommer, one-time friend of the confessed slayer.

Weidmann listed as his men victims a broker named Raymond Lesobre, found dead ten days ago in the St. Cloud villa; a young man named Roger Leblond; a

OKLAHOMA SENATOR SAYS COMMUNITIES BE SPLIT ASUNDER

SAYS THREATS ALREADY MADE TO FORCE REDUCTION OF ACREAGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—Senator Lee (D-Okla) told the senate today the pending farm bill would cause "more strife than the Ku Klux Klan."

"We will be splitting communities wide open," Lee shouted. "One farmer's hand will be raised against another. Why I read of one farmer who said "we'll make them reduce their acreage, or we'll get out the old night-riders!"

He urged payments to farmers on that share of their crops consumed in this country, as a substitute for acreage reduction.

The Oklahoman said the restrictions under the "ever-normal granary" cotton section would force small cotton farmers to compete "with the hottentots, the coolie, the lowest type of labor in India."

Before the senate debate began, the house with less than half its members present, voted down a proposal today to permit the agriculture secretary to impose marketing quotas on corn when national supplies pile up to 2,600,000,000 bushels. The unrecorded vote was 78 to 59.

The house farm bill as it now stands would authorize invoking the quotas when supplies reach 2,000,000,000 bushels.

Senate debate opened, meanwhile, with a declaration by Senator Copeland (D-NY) that "peace between business and the administration" was far more important than the pending farm bill.

The New Yorker, who is opposed to the "ever-normal granary" measure, predicted, however, that the farm bill would pass.

When Copeland finished,, Senator Lee (D-Okla) again urged his domestic allotment plan as a substitute for compulsory crop control.

Lee said the senate's present bill would not "help the cotton farmer" and would cause a further loss of foreign cotton markets.

Housing Program is Planned Be Taken Up

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—House and senate leaders, hopeful of completing farm debate this week, started maneuvering today for prompt consideration of the administration's vast housing program.

In the senate this involved the ticklish problem of temporarily sidetracking the anti-lynching bill.

There was talk of setting a date next session for a vote on the anti-lynching bill, but southern sen-

ICKES DECLARES FASCISTS OF AMERICA MORE OF THREAT THAN COMMUNIST; HITS HIGH COURT

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—A warning was out from Secretary Harold Ickes today that the "Fascist-minded men of America," grasping for more power and greater riches, were a more real threat to the country than communists.

"It is these men who, pretending that they would save us from dreadful communism, would superimpose upon America an equally dreadful fascism," he said.

The interior secretary, in a bristling denunciation of "corporate overlords," declared at the annual dinner of the American Civil Liberties Union last night that the supreme court had "gone far to convert the bill of rights x x x into a charter of corporate privilege."

Internationale has been supplanted, he said, by a "Ku Klux Kode."

"And just as certain nations, uttering the excuse that they are stamping out communism, commit crimes at which savages would blush," he said, "so in our own land those who would undermine our Democratic institutions do it under the same hollow pretense. x x x

"Employers who deny to their workers the right to associate together in a labor union for the common good of all frequently declare that they do so because of 'communistic' influences which are at large in their factories."

In his discourse on the supreme court, he said it had "gone out of its way" to support attacks upon personal rights; he asserted it also had "frequently nullified" the efforts of congress to protect "minority groups against x x x economic coercion."

The judiciary in general, he said, had aided "giant corporations" in the assumption of "an overlordship," by decisions treating a corporation in its relations with government "as if it were a mere individual."

New Low Reached Wednesday Night Season's Weather

A new low for the season was recorded here Wednesday night when the temperature dropped to 20 on the official government thermometer following a blustery cold day with an official maximum reading of 35. At 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon the mercury had crept up to 32 degrees on the thermometer at the Daily Sun office after a reading of 24 at 8 o'clock.

The sun tried to come out at intervals Thursday morning but the skies were overcast most of the day. A light wind blew steadily from the north all morning.

Cloudy and warmer with occasional rains for tonight and Friday is the official weather bureau prediction for this vicinity.

Pipes were frozen in homes where the water was not cut off Wednesday night and plumbers were reported busy Thursday making repairs. Garages and filling stations were busy Wednesday afternoon filling radiators with anti-freeze solutions.

Shell Officials And Union Men Continue Their Conference

HOUSTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Federal mediators looked today to a conference between Shell Refinery officials and International Oil Workers union representatives to end the strike at the Big Deer Park refinery.

VICE PRESIDENT GARNER WILL EAT HIS DEER TONIGHT BUT HE WILL NOT BE ALLOWED COOK IT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Vice President Garner, whether he likes it or not, is going to sit down tonight to somebody else's cooking of the deer he shot last week in Pennsylvania.

The bushy-browed V. P.—an unregimented hot grease-and-flour veteran when it comes to venison—let it be known recently that he considers hunters who don't cook their own meat as sissies.

It looked today, however, as if he won't cook this deer unless the Raleigh Hotel lets him in the scullery without a union cook's card.

The chef, however, is going to do his best to follow Garner's venison recipe, which is, in his own words:

"Take a back strap, cut in and beat it well. Then flour it and put it in very hot grease. Don't fry too hard. Pour off some of the grease and then make brown gravy."

The next step, Garner added, is simple:

"You smile, and eat!"

Party lines have been shot asunder in getting out the guest list of senators who will feast on the deer.

President Roosevelt wasn't invited—he has a sore jaw.

MALE BALLET DANCERS MERELY REFORMED WRESTLERS, FOOTBALL AND TRACK STARS, SHAWN SAYS

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Note to the man in the second row with the sack of throwing tomatoes:

Don't do it; you've got those gentlemen toe dancers all wrong. They're not sissies; just a bunch of reformed wrestlers, footballers and track men.

That's right—put your vegetables away and listen to the story of Ted Shawn and his barefoot boys.

Twenty-five years ago Shawn started his dancing career. He was 21 and a good dancer.

Five years ago he hit upon the idea of giving the public something different; male ballet dancers. Warnings came from everywhere. It would be murder, they told him, to skip eight young men through a routine usually accompanied by the rustle of skirts.

But Shawn fooled them. He dug into colleges and came up with a wrestling champion; prize pole vaulter, football players, crack swimmers—muscled, handsome youngsters.

"Sir, that first year of pioneering was a trifle difficult," Shawn reminisced today. "There were times when it looked as if the boys were in for a bit of a fruit barrage.

"Well do I remember the first time the troupe went into Texas. Two weeks in advance 50 cowboys had gone about collecting eggs and vegetables. The night of the show the house manager was in agony. Our 50 friends were out front and well equipped.

"The curtain went up and the boys went out. Signs of restlessness in the first few rows caused the boys to brace for the worst. Nothing happened.

"Of course, the boys felt as if they had been on the stage a couple of weeks when that show ended, but our friends actually became interested and took their vegetables home with them."

"About 20 per cent of our audiences were male on the first tour," said Shawn. "Now it is about 60 per cent."

Army Air Officer Killed in Plane Crash Thursday

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Lieut. Edward P. Burke, 24, was instantly killed at 2:15 a. m. today when his army observation plane plunged to earth near Kelly field.

The plane burst into flames as it crashed and both it and the body of the pilot were consumed.

Burke, a graduate of West Point and a native of Helena, Mont., had gone aloft from Kelly field to take a weather observation.

Burke took off from Kelly field at 1:25 a. m. on the daily observation flight. Radio contact was established at 1:52 a. m. at which time he reported his elevation at 2,000 feet. It is presumed he was flying at 4,000 feet when the crash came.

Cause of the crash was a mystery to army officials. The pilot apparently failed to turn off the ignition, causing the craft to catch fire as it struck the ground.

It was the first fatal accident in the nearly two years the early morning weather observation has been made at Kelly field.

An army court of inquiry was empannelled to investigate the accident.

Lieut. Burke was graduated from West Point in 1936 and assigned to the infantry. He came to Randolph Field in March of this year, and entered the advanced flying class at Kelly Field July 1, completing the course recently.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Sara Lou Burke of San Antonio; and his mother, Mrs. J. Burke of Helena, Mont.

STIFF SPINES AND CLEAR HEADS MUST CONFRONT DAY'S CHANGES*

Mood of Panic Fear Unworthy of Times---- Real Goals Now Sought Are All Within the Limits of Bible Teaching --- -How to Be a Good Fellow.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

It is a thrilling, and to the timid, a terrifying, experience to be alive in these days. Our lot has been cast amidst one of the major upheavals of history. Change is all about us, and ahead of us, both abroad and at home. The pattern of human life is being greatly altered. For nations, for communities and for individuals, the old order is passing, and at the accelerated rate of our modern speed. Nobody can truly tell what the next twenty years will see.

Perhaps the most alarming factor is that so many millions of persons are sacred, and have become defeatists in their souls. They have read the frequent predictions that civilization is collapsing, and that primitive barbarism is mankind's sure and early fate. The rich are more affrighted than the poor, because they have more to lose. Countless wealthy men are buying or building refuges in remote places, wherein they hope to escape the storm of revolution which their panicky minds foresee.

This supine yielding to fear is unworthy of us, and of the traditions of our forebears. The possibility of catastrophe is not something to flee from, but to face. The forces of change are human, and to be shaped by human will and courage. We need a better breed of mankind, which will confront the conflict, understand it and meet it. God has put all things under man's feet, if he exercises manhood's qualities.

What Does The World Want?

If we look deeply into mankind's mood today, we perceive that the overwhelming desire is not for destruction, but for more and better life—a freer, fairer, fuller existence for everybody. I have seen great masses of men smashing in mad and bitter fury toward what they thought were these goals. It has been my lot to go through four violent national revolutions since the beginning of the World War. So I am familiar with death and destruction.

Nevertheless, I still firmly believe that what the multitudes really want, despite all their blind blunders, is in full consonance with the Bible's plain teachings. In today's Lesson we have a clear view of the Divine objectives. According to Scripture the golden age—which it calls the Kingdom of God—is in the future; and not, as is the case with pagan peoples, in the past. John, the Revelator, saw "a new heaven and a new earth." Like him, we are to have our conceptions of both heaven and earth revised. All that man needs or desires is prescribed in the forward-looking Book.

That Men May Borthers Be

Deep in their hearts, all men are hungry for a better life. The War and the years since, have wiped the smile of happiness off the face of most of huminity. In the Magazine Section of the New York Times recently, there were several large pictures of Russian crowds—and only on two faces was there the semblance of a smile. The scores of others were grim and tense. Cheerful contentment is not one of Soviet Russia's achievements. As we study the faces on the streets of our cities, we find the same absence of the signature of peace. These problem times have erased serenity as well as security from the lives of most persons.

When John wrote, in our Lesson text, to the early Christians, he stressed the note of fellowship, with God and with man, "that our joy may be made full." There is no joy when a person is out of fellowship with his family, his work-fellows, his time and his God.

We prate much nowadays about brotherhood, as if it were a superficial thing, to be attained, with all of its consequences, by legislation or by mass movements or by organization. Actually, brotherhood is a result of fatherhood. Men may meet in the real fellowship of brotherhood only at the feet of the Heavenly Father, and in acceptance of His will. We shall be good brothers of our fellow men only as we are good children of our Father. Everything that a perturbed word seeks, through democracy, Socialism, Communism, Fascism of autocracy, may reall be attained only by the brotherhood which is enfolded in the purpose of God.

The Ugly Three Letter Word.

..Gentle John employs the ugly three letter word as he writes about those who think that religious professions or church membership are sufficient. In the burning light of Scripture it is impossible to cloak evil and lawless deeds beneath pious creeds. Weigh carefully these explicit and stern words:

"If we say that we have fellowship with Him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: But if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another and the blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanseth us from all sin."

The Most Daring Dream Of All.

In other words, a genuine and ideal society is not merely reformed; it is redeemed. Shares of a great experience of God—the highest attainment of which human nature is capable—are welded into a oneness that obliterates all the divisions which vex mankind. Jesus commonly called this brotherly state the Kingdom of Heaven, or the Kingdom of God. He regarded it as the ultimately normal life. Such was His stupendous assumption. Who can deny that toward such a consummation, by processes understood only by Divine wisdom and patience, the whole creation has been progressing in travail throughout the ages?

Just as old Jerusalem, as some of us know it well, is dirty, dark, smelly and sordid, so the New Jerusalem which the seer of Patmos beheld is beautiful and bright and tearless and joyous, and filled with the fellowship of those who hold in common life's deepest and dearest qualities.

Of the early Christians is used to be said, in wonderment, "Behold how these Christians love one another." Their fellowship was a symbol of their faith. Despite their self-centered sufficiency, our great Christian Communions today are surely facing toward the same objective. Their goal is a church with a common spirit of brotherhood, embracing all men everywhere. "By this shall all men know that ye are My disciples, if ye have love one to another."

TUBERCULOSIS SEALS, THEIR SIGNIFICANCE AND HISTORY TOLD

TOM BAILEY AND DR. L. E. KELTON, JR., ROTARIAN SPEAKERS

Tom aBiley and Dr. L. E. Kelton Jr., the speakers on today's luncheon meeting of the Rotary club at th Navarro Hotel, explained the history of the tuberculosis seals and their significance in the fight against the disease. Dr. Kelton talked upon the treatment and cure of the disease, and emphasized the necessity of educating people in the methods of treatment.

In charge of today's program were Kirby Wilson, Tom Bailey and Dr. E. H. Newton. Dr. R. C. Curtis, president, appointed Monty Davidson, Fred Blucher and Carl Anderson as next week's program committee. Pete Cunningham was a visitor today. C. S. Dickens reported on the Rotary club's participation in the charity horse show.

Mr. Bailey reviewed the history of the tuberculosis seal campaign, the origin of which he said was not strictly American. He said in 1903 a Danish postal clerk conceived the idea of a non-postage stamp to spread good cheer at Christmas time and in 1904 the Danish government printed and sold stamps of 1-2 cent denomination, to raise money for Danish children suffering tuberculosis. In 1907 the campaign was started in Delaware and $3,000 was realized. In 1908 the campaign took on nationwide importance and $135,000 was raised to fight tuberculosis. In 1936, Mr. Bailey said, $4,500,000 was raised, and from 1907 until 1936 a total of $83,000,000 has been raised.

Distribution of Money.

Mr. Bailey showed the distribution of the money, pointing out most of it stays in each community in active work.

Dr. Kelton spoke briefly concerning the disease, calling special attention to the fact it can affect almost any part of the body and is not confined to the lungs, as some believe.

He said when a person has a hemorrhage it is a blessing to them because then they are thoroughly scared and will take immediate steps to be cured, whereas on the other hand, when a person knows he has the disease and has not had a hemorrhage, he will put off from time to time the treatment. Dr. Kelton said tuberculosis sanitoriums not only treat the patient for the disease, but educate them in care of their bodies after they have left the sanitorium. He said tuberculosis affecting many parts of the body at the same time can be cured by the proper rest, care and treatment, especially if the disease is diagnosed at its beginning.

The speaker cited statistics showing the death rate and expense of caring for tuberculosis patients, and concluded by stating one of the most important things the annual seal campaign does is to spread education of the disease, especially among people who are not in a position to learn it from other sources.

Member of Board

MRS. H. G. BROWN

Long active in the Texas Society for Crippled Children, Mrs. H. G. Brown of this city was named a member of the board of directors of the organization at the annual meeting held in Dallas this week.

As local representative of the organization, Mrs. Brown has carried 200 cripples to clinics in various cities of the state and at the present she has 78 in hospitals undergoing treatment. Of the number Mrs. Brown has been responsible for receiving treatment 20 have been pronounced as fully recovered. She has placed two in the blind institute and one in the deaf and dumb school. Another has been placed in a school to learn the watch makers' trade.

Mrs. Brown takes a personal interest in each case coming to her attention and using her own automobile takes each child to the hospital. She is enthusiastic about the work and gives unselfishly of her time and effort in behalf of the afflicted.

25TH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED BY DELUXE FRUIT CAKE COMPANY

FAMOUS HOLIDAY CONFECTION MANUFACTURED HERE FOR QUARTER CENTURY

Celebrating its silver anniversary in 1937, the DeLuxe Fruit Cake Company is enjoying one of its biggest years and can look back over a quarter of a century of activity that has resulted in its product acquiring a world-wide distribution and reputation.

The past 25 years has seen this firm, comprised of Messrs. W. T. "Tom" McElwee and A. "Gus" Weidmann, grow from a small experimental sideline to the bakery business they established well over 30 years ago into a separate unit that keeps a number of persons busy all during the year and has carried the names "DeLuxe" and "Corsicana" onto every continent and to almost every country in the world.

Bo to Foreign Countries.

For weeks now, since October 5, cakes made by the long-established recipe have been leaving Corsicana by mail and express in order to reach their destinations by the holiday season, and day by day huge shipments are following the earlier departures, bound for nearer points. On the shipping list this year, only two continents—Africa and Australia—were missing. The foreign destinations include cities in various South American countries, Cuba, England, Sweden, Hungary, Austria, France, Germany, Hawaii, Japan and India. Domestic destinations include cities in every state in the union.

With pride the owners of the firm this week reported they were enjoying their best season in the past decade and one that promised to press closely the all-time record for their cakes, and pointed to piles of orders received daily from almost every line of endeavor, oil companies, statesmen, attorneys, doctors, utility companies, industrial firms, hardware distributors and showmen from all parts of America.

Tons of Ingredients.

Early this year, tons of ingredients began to arrive in the DeLuxe plant preparatory to the holiday season, including raisins from Turkey, citron from Italy, glace cherries from France, almonds from Spain, and kumquats from Italy, which were lated mixed with a dozen other items to form the finished product.

The entire establishment stepped into top speed this week and the pace will be maintained until the holidays arrive, according to Mr. McElwee, with shipments going forward by mail and express daily.

But the veteran partners have not been so busy this year that they could not stop briefly now and then and recall the early days of their enterprise a quarter of a century ago. The copyrighted name "DeLuxe" has already lived through its original grant of time, and was renewed several years ago.

Has Anyone Seen This Dog? If So Notify Its Owner

A pointer marked with liver-colored spots was reported at large in Corsicana Wednesday by George L. O'Briant and he was very desirous of regaining custody of the animal. He asked that any one seeing the dog call him at once at telephone 1428.

The dog is wearing a collar which has Mr. O'Briant's name inscribed on it. The animal has bitten the owner and he is anxious to pen him up for proper observation.

DISTRICT MEETING OF FUTURE FARMERS HELD STATE HOME

State Home was host to directors and representatives of the Corsicana district of F. F. A. Monday evening, Dec. 6, at 7:30. Music was furnished by the Palmer F. F. A. band, and approximately 125 boys attended.

The purposes of the meeting were to elect district officers and to provide a training school for those selected. Places throughout the district with officers designated them were, president, Blooming Grove; vice president, State Home; secretary, Italy; treasurer, Ferris; reporter, Palmer; watch dog, Mildred, and parliamentarian, Avalon. The adviser selected was H. T. Lester of Ennis.

According to George Hurt, advosor for State Home, an interesting phase of the work is shown by the fact that there are ten areas throughout the state. Corsicana district furnishes two officers for the North Texas area. The president is selected from Italy high school, the reporter from State Home.

The Blooming Grove Future Farmers went to State Home Monday night, Dec. 6, to attend the first of the district Future Farmers' meetings. The house was called to order and Jimmie Doyle Carroll acted as vice president and E. J. Glenn as treasurer. Jimmie Doyle asked if all officers were at their stations and reported back without a single mistake. The vice president has much more to say than any other officer in the chapter and Jimmie is to be complimented for the way he conducted it.

After this, the nominating committee went into another room to select officers for the following year. Through the use of skilled methods on the part of our delegates, Bill Brooks and Blake Gillen, the Blooming Grove chapter won the honor of furnishing the district president. The other officers elected were:

Vice president, State Home; reporter, Palmer; treasurer, Ferris; secretary, Italy; watch dog, Mildred; parliamentarian, Avalon; historian, Kerens; advisor, Ennis.

Officers to be furnished by the Corsicana district in the area chapter were elected from Italy and State Home after a lively discussion from the floor.

Those attending were, W. P. Orme, Joe Barham, Bruce Meador, E. J. Glenn, Jimmie Doyle Carroll, Noel Furro, Wayne Holditch, Blake Gillen, Bill Brooks, Otho Tucker, Melvin Lynch and R. C. Staggs.—Reporter.

TRAFFIC JUNIOR-HI VICINITY IS UNDER DIRECTION STUDENTS

NEW SYSTEM ORGANIZED UNDER DIRECTION OF O. F. ALLEN, PRINCIPAL

The junior high school traffic patrol, 12 students and a captain who directs the traffic of automobiles and students on streets bordering the school campus, was put into effect this week, after the students had been drilled for several weeks in the direction of traffic by city and school officials.

With the new system only three days old, O. F. Allen, school principal who instigated the patrol, said today it is definitely successful, and the students and passing motorists are co-operating perfectly with the patrol and the school.

Captain of the patrol is Jimmy Plyler, and the 12 members of the patrol include Felto Prewitt, Harold Sawyer, John Wheelock, Pat Patrick, Leland Morton, Hawkins Scarborough, Kenneth Roxburgh, John Joe McColpin, Charles Deveney, Robert Tate, Elmer Curtis and Frank Dunton.

Attractive Uniforms.

The lads are dressed in attractive blue uniforms, which were furnished by the junior high school Parent-Teacher Association, and in the near future will have belts given them by the governor's safety committee.

Captain Plyler of the patrol is on duty every day, and the remainder of the patrol is divided into two groups, six working on alternate days. They direct traffic for about five minutes at noon, until the campus is cleared of students and the movement of automobiles has become less congested, and then take their positions at 12:30 and continue directing traffic until 1 o'clock, when all the students have gone to their classes. They also work about five minutes, or until the campus has been cleared of students, in the afternoon.

The present patrol was appointed by Principal Allen, but he said after the present semester, the members will be elected by the student body.

Is Safety Measure.

"Our object in organizing the patrol," Principal Allen said, "is to avoid accidents that might occur around the school, which might result in the loss of lives or serious injury to the 600 or more students in the school. With more than 600 students congested in one square block, which is bordered on two sides with the busiest streets in town, the traffic question presents a problem, and we believe our system will solve it," Principal Allen explained.

"We have been fortunate not to have had any traffic accidents in the past, but in recent years there have been several incidents that almost became serious accidents. We are putting in this system in the hope that no student in the junior high school will be injured."

ELLIS COUNTY MAN BELIEVES HUMANKIND GENERALLY HONEST

ITALY, Dec. 9.—(AP)—George Tittle, farmer and poultryman and resident of this community for 40 years, believes in elemental honesty of his brother man. He also believes even a thief may be moved to make restitution by the right kind of appeal through the regional newspaper.

Tittle overslept one morning recently and was unable to explain the lapse until he discovered an old rooster, whose morning call had roused him for several years, was missing along with a flock of hens. Scattered tail feathers suggested removal by violence.

The farmer came to town and after warning peace officers not to start an inquiry as "the culprit probably was in distress," inserted the following paid advertisement in the local weekly newspaper:

"If you steal from the rich,
"You will steal from the poor;
"But you should always leave a few
"So we can grow some more."

The morning after the paper was issued, Tittle was awakened by the familiar challenge of the rooster and, hurrying to the hen house, found the entire flock was been returned. On the floor was the following note:

"We are poor and in need. Planted everything in cotton and have nothing to eat, but our conscience was aroused when we read your ad, and we return your chickens and will go on relief."

Two Fires Caused Slight Damage

A roof fire caused a run for the fire department to the 800 block on South Main street about 3:30 Wednesday afternoon with damage estimated at $10.

JAPANESE TANKS ALLEGEDLY BREAK NANKING DEFENSES

SPANISH INSURGENT ATTACKS REPORTED REPULSED BY LOYALISTS

(By The Associated Press)

Japanese tanks were reported today to have broken through the dogged Chinese defenses in the bitterly contested battle of Nanqing.

A Domei (Japanese) news agency dispatch said the tanks lumbered through the Southwest gate of the Chinese capital, prompting a Japanese prediction the ancient city would fall by tomorrow.

Strongly fortified Chinese artillery on purple mountain overlooking Nanking kept the Japanese from a frontal attack on the city's precipitious eastern wall.

A second Domei report said the Japanese entered Wuhu, Yangtze river port 60 miles upstream from the capital. Wuhu had been subjected to 24 hour attacks.

The quiet which had prevailed for some time at Shanghai was broken by the boom at anti-aircraft guns fired by the Japanese flagship Idzumo when two Chinese planes were reported to have flown over the vessel.

At Peiping, reliable sources told of the arrival of Wang Kehmin, veteran Chinese financier and statesman around whom it was said a new autonomous government for North China would be formed.

Wang was reported to have demanded an end of warfare in North China and withdrawal of Japanese troops before he would head the new government.

In the Spanish civil war, the comparative quiet of past weeks was shattered on the Aragon and Madrid fronts when insurgent infantry attacks were reported to have been beaten back by government forces.

Government dispatches told of desperate hand-to-hand combat in the Aragon region. Floods hampered insurgent positions along the Ebro river in the same section.

Bank Manager and Visiting Parson Outwit Bandits

COMISTON, Ont., Dec. 8.—(AP)—(Canadian Press)—A visiting parson and a bank manager saved a $30,000 payroll today by slamming the door on two slow-moving gunmen.

The gunmen slipped into the apartment of Manager John Graham, above the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, shortly after midnight.

They demanded that Graham open the vault below, which held a large payroll as well as the bank's own funds.

Mrs. Graham and Mrs. A. P. Addison, the pastor's wife, were tied in the apartment. Graham and the minister were herded down the stairway.

They reached the street door, Graham suddenly swung it open, and he and the Rev. Mr. Addison darted through, the slamming door locking the bandits in.

Police were called, but the bandits escaped by a rear stairway.

REDUCED FREIGHT RATES ON LIVESTOCK FEED CONTINUED IN EFFECT UNTIL NEXT MARCH

AUSTIN, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The railroad commission today ordered extended to March 1, 1938, reduced freight rates on livestock feed shipments in 30 drought-stricken counties.

The order followed by a few hours a hearing at which the rail lines, opposing the extension, offered no testimony but took the position the commission was without authority to force continuation of the emergency 25 per cent reduction.

Counties affected here Atascosa, Bee, Brooks, Dimmitt, Duval, Frio, Goliad, Gray, Hemphill, Hutchison, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kinney, Kleberg, Karnes, Lasalle, Lipscomb, Live Oak, McMullen, Maverick, Medina, Ochiltree, Roberts, Starr, Terrell, Uvalde, Valverde, Webb, Zapata and Zavalla.

Originally established Oct. 1, the rates were to expire Nov. 30. The commission ordered an extension to Dec. 31 following a hearing in November and at a second hearing this month heard testimony of stockmen that notwithstanding normal rainfall during the next few months, grass and other forage for feed with sufficient nourishment to maintain livestock will not be available before March 1.

The regular rate schedule was ordered reinstated December 31 on shipments to Carson, Dallam, Hansford, Hartley, Moore, Oldham, Potter, Randall and Sherman counties. No testimony was presented to support continued drought conditions in those counties Stephens county, one of the applicants for lower rates after December 31, also was eliminated because of lack of testimony.

Railroads have asked District Judge Roy C. Archer here to enjoin the commission from enforcing the reduced rates. Judge Archer said trial of the case probably would be started next Monday or Tuesday.

THOMPSON'S OIL FORECAST FOR 1938 INDICATES AN INCREASED CONSUMPTION FOR GASOLINE

AUSTIN, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, surveyed conditions in the oil industry today and reported the outlook for 1938 was good.

He forecast consumption of gasoline next year would increase about six per cent over 1937 and also predicted continued heavy drilling unless there was a depression.

Production was firmly under control of regulatory authorities, working through the interstate compact, he said, and no new laws on oil were needed.

The availability of accurate statistical data weekly was cited as one of the most important favorable factors.

"The amount of oil consumed is known," Thompson said. "The quantity of oil produced is known. And the amount of crude and finished petroleum products on hand in storage is made public through the press every week.

Thompson said reasonable limitation of production had conserved reservoir energy, meant far greater ultimate recoveries would be had and had brought production about in balance with consumption.

Thompson said reduced allowables "in a firm market cause extensive and intensive drilling," but that was "a matter for the driller or the operator to decide, as to whether or not he will make a profit out of the enterprise."

To date, he added, 27,292 wells had been completed this year in the United States, of which 14,167 were in Texas.

"The outstanding development of 1937 in oil regulation has been the realization of oil producers that strict effective state control of production was to the benefit of the nation," Thompson said "that it gave consumers cheap gasoline and that it helped them by keeping them from overproducing themselves into bankruptcy."

He estimated total crude production in Texas for 1937 would be more than 100,000,000 barrels greater than in 1936.

Production for the first 10 months of 1937 was 438,195,104 barrels.

Production for the five preceding years was: 419,053,944 in 1936; 378,686,385 on 1935; 357,554,770 in 1934; 369,253,285 in 1933 and 309,705,321 in 1932.

In the last year 59 new fields were discovered in Texas and 147 now are producing oil. All time production from Texas fields was reported at more than 5,00,000,000 (billion) barrels.

CLASS B ELEVENS WILL END SEASONS WITH AREA TITLES

LONGVIEW-TEMPLE BOUT ON SATURDAY IS RATED AS STANDOUT LEAGUE RACE

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Four games Friday and Saturday will cut the Texas Interscholastic league football field to its semi-final round and the general prediction today was that Wichita Falls, North Side (Fort Worth) Longview and Conroe would remain when all the firing ceased.

Probably the feature game will be that at Longview Saturday when the all-victorious Lobocs tangle with the Temple Wildcats at 2:30 p. m. A crowd of 8,000 fans was forecast, the number being second only to the expected attendance at Fort Worth where North Side and Sherman are likely to play before 10,000.

Sherman, a surprise member of the quarter-final bracket, meets the Steers, also unexpected visitor, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

Robstown, which will attempt to slow down the high-powered offense of the Conroe Tigers, unbeaten and untied and holders of the season's scoring mark, packs a "sentimental interest." Robstown, like Kerrville's "iron men," last season's finalists, is short on reserves with only 19 players on the squad. The result is that most of the regulars have to stay in the line-up the full 60 minutes.

Coach Joe Lagow is being ranked in the category of "miracle man." He carried Conroe from cellar to the top in three years and made the town—boasting a population of but 6,000 — football mad. Seven thousand fans are expected to see the game, scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Friday at Conroe.

Wichita Falls is the Interscholastic league's "team of destiny." A month ago the Coyotes wallowed in the doldrums with Vernon the big gun of district 2, but Wichita Falls suddenly came to life and downed Vernon and Graham and was awarded the title when Quanah was ruled ineligible. The Coyotes have won 6 games, lost 2 and tied 2; yet they are now knocking at the door to the title with the notable feat of pushing the defending champions, Amarillo's Sandies, from the race last week.

Wichita Falls meets another "dark horse" team Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. at Wichita Falls. It is Austin (El Paso), undefeated and untied and boasting a squad of opportunists who aren't beaten until the last gun fires. Six thousand are expected to see this game.

By the Associated Press

Featured by the clash between Brady and San Saba, the Texas Interscholastic league class B football race ends this week with the crowning of regional champions.

This contest holds the spotlight because it matched two backs of much renown, one of whom claims the national scoring record for the season. He is Dean Bagley of San Saba, who has run up more than 260 points. Charley Dye is the big gun of the Brady team a 10-second man who usually runs wild.

Wink, which claims the highest total of points with 464 to 53 for the opposition, plays Roscoe at Odessa. Itasca, which has 452 points to 19, tackles the Hearne team. Wellington, another high-scorer with 452 points to 19, tackles the Hearne team. Wellington, another high-scorer with 419 to 19, plays Panhandle at Wellington.

Wink's record is remarkable in that it includes victories over the class A Big Spring team and Hobbs, N. M., and no class B aggregation has been able to hold the score down to a reasonable figure.

The play-off schedule:

Region 1—Panhandle at Wellington, Friday; Region 2—Roscoe vs. Wink at Odessa, Saturday; Region 3—Burkburnett vs. Putnam at Wichita Falls, Friday; Region 4—Diamond Hill (Ft. Worth) at Van, Friday; Region 5—Mineola at Rockwall, Friday; Region 6—Overton at Groveton, Friday night; Region 7—Brady at San Saba, Friday; Region 8—Itasca vs. Hearne at Waco, Friday; Region 9—Smithville vs. Bay City at Eagle Lake, Friday night; Region 10—Pasadena vs. Hull-Daisetta at Goose Creek, Friday; Region 11—Eldorado at Hondo, Friday; Region 12—Aransas Pass vs. Freer at Corpus Christi, Friday night.

Jennings and Crow Here.

Morley Jennings and Jim Crow, head coach and freshman mentor, respectively, of Baylor University, Waco, were in Corsicana Thursday afternoon en route to Kilgore to witness the state junior college championship football game Thursday night between Kilgore College and Schreiner Institute of Kerrville.

Woman Candidate Presidency Possum Club Causes Worry

MENA, Ark., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The threat of a woman candidate winning the presidency of the Polk County 'Possum Club had veteran members of that unique organization fidgety as they prepared for their 25th annual banquet tonight.

Men have always headed the club, and women candidates haven't offered. But this year there is a woman entry running under the pseudonym of "Aunt Persimmon U. Pucker."

Most of the "men folks" are backing Albert Gist, hillbilly poet and song writer of Mountain Fork, Ark., to succeed English Baker to the presidency, but admitted they are worried.

Some 300 or 400 guests from Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma will consume between 50 and 100 opossums and 15 live ones will cavort around the banquet hall just to add atmosphere.

TRAFFIC LAW UNIFORMITY.

State motor laws are gaining in uniformity. The more people travel about in their own automobiles, the more they realize the safety and convenience that lie in knowing the traffic rules and the confusion and danger that exist when those rules change at every state line.

There is a Uniform Vehicle Code, worked out by traffic experts, which should be used all over the country. During 1937 more progress has been made in setting up its standards through state and local legislation than in any other year.

Co-operation among the states is generally regarded as much more desirable than federal regulation. Here is evidence that it works when there is widespread interest in the results. Much anxiety and argument about state rights and federal jurisdiction could be avoided if the separate states were as prompt in acting together in other causes as they are in this one of traffic control.

COAL NATIONALIZED

Americans are naturally interested in the adventures of the coal industry in England, because of the distressed condition of this industry in America. Our coal mining grew out of England's and originally copied English methods. Many of our miners have always been of English and Welsh origin.

In the last half-century our mining methods have greatly improved on England's mechanization and efficiency. Even so, there isn't much to brag about, because our coal industry itself has been very low for a decade or more. It's very efficiency has made trouble, We have such great coal deposits, so widely distributed, and has been so cheap to produce and so difficult to control production, that the profit has gone. Americans therefore turn curiously to see just what England is doing.

The British government, acting apparently with the approval of most of the owners of "coal measures," has bought the coal underground at a rather low valuation, leaving the production in the hands of private operators. The government is expected to use its monopoly in such a way as to close unproductive mines and compel reforms in the mining and selling.

It will probably be a long time, in spite of the unsatisfactory situation in our own coal industry, before nationalization of the supply is approved here. But our coal men will keep an eye on the British experiment.

THE UNAUTHORIZED STRIKE.

It was an important moment in the history of American labor unions when Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, stood up in a meeting of union members in Pontiac, Mich., and told them: "No small group of workers who think they can do as they please can close a General Motors plant and stay within the pale of the union."

This was a case where a few hundred workmen, striking without official authorization, closed a big plant, throwing nearly 15,000 out of work directly and many others indirectly.

It should be obvious to everybody that labor cannot expect employers to keep agreements unless workmen keep them, also that such wilful and irresponsible procedure breaks down the unions themselves.

A period of declining employment, too, is an especially poor time to disregard union contracts. When there are grievances, it is wiser to handle them through the machinery established for such purposes. The public itself, which includes both employers and employees, plus a larger group of neutrals, is growing steadily less tolerant of "sit-downs."

INCIDENT AT BETHLEHEM

Long years ago he looked at her and sadly shook his head.
"We soon must go to Bethlehem to register," hesaid.
And Mary smiled at Joseph,
"'Twill be difficult," said she,
But the Lord has made a promise
that no harm shall come to me."

She trudged along the highway as her time of travail neared.
She heard the inn was crowded
when at Bethlehem they appeared.
And then she said to Joseph, "In the stable it must be!
But the Lord has made a promise
that no harm shall come to me."

Soon the shepherds came to Mary who had heard the news afar.
To the Prince of Peace, they told her they'd been guided by a star!
They adored her new-born baby!
Oh how strangely things occur!
And the Lord had kept His promise that no harm should come to her.

HAILE SELASSIE'S PRIDE

Recently word got around that Haile Selassie was "broke." He had to move his establishment into a small house in Bath, England, and to economize in many ways.

Since this news was published, the countryless ruler has been made aware of the warm hearts of many English people. He has been showered with gifts of food, wine, coal and even postage stamps. The Negus now issues a formal acknowledgement of this generosity but beseeches his would-be friends to desist. The sentiments which prompt them may be all right, but many of the gifts are undignified. They are more suited to the old-style missionary barrel, or the preacher's donation party of American pioneer days than to an impoverished monarch's need. Even a black emperor without an empire has his pride.

"I am a poor man, yes," admits Selassie, "but I am not an object of charity."

He suggests that people who really sympathize with Ethiopia and the Ethiopians send their gifts to the association which has been formed to aid refugees from that unfortunate land. It is an intelligent suggestion.

SPEED OR ROMANCE

Pan-American Airways expects to have planes flying the Atlantic next year on regular schedule. Other lines will be started. All of them will be kept busy. As one commentator sees it, the companies will scarcely have to advertise at all; there will be waiting lists for passage on them.

Air service is likely to cut into the business of the luxury liners and will make operaton of the latter even more costly and unprofitable than it is now. There will be little competition with the smaller, slower steamers, because they are never much used by the travelers who want speed and excitement and who can afford to pay high rates. Tourists of moderate means who can't afford airplane prices will continue to travel by boat.

Ship voyagers should be comforted by one fact. Airplanes making the Atlantic crossing in 19 hours don't leave much time for star-gazing and moonlight enchantment. For five or six days of romance and fun at sea, the boat's the thing.

It's grand to be a dictator. The boss of Brazil suspends payment of debts totaling $1,250,000,000 and gets away with it; while most of us can't even suspend payments on the radio without getting into trouble.

A hard-shell economist is worrying because the public refuses to get so badly scared by the business relapse as business leaders are. He should thank heaven for it.

"If he'd listen to reason we could get going!"

YOUNGSTERS' IDEAS

A discussion carried on by a small group of high school boys and girls, before an audience of parents, brought out some interesting opinions.

The children say they appreciate the fact that their parents are making great sacrifices for them, but don't like to have it rubbed in.

It is better, they say, for their parents not to "order" the boys and girls to do this and that, but to talk things over till they all agree.

The parents would be more successful in censoring the children's friends, they suggest, if Father and Mother would invite both desirable and undesirable acquaintances to the house, and let the children draw their own conclusions. In the home environment, the youngsters are quick to see who fits their own ideals and way of life, and who doesn't.

WELL POSTED

One of the news weeklies announces that men who read it are 46.3 per cent better informed than their neighbors who don't, and women who read it are 50.6 per cent better informed than their women friends and 13.6 per cent better informed than their men friends.

This is getting up-to-dateness down to a marvelous statistical basis. As anyone can see, we live in an extremely statistical world.

The next step might be a canvass to determine exactly by what fractional percentages women surpass men in love for their mates, or vice versa, as the case may be. With charts and graphs, of course, indicating the current trend.

It would be interesting to know what standard was adopted, as a "frame of reference," in setting forth so intangible a thing as well informedness. Just what things are people supposed to know, and how much of them, to make par? There might be a basis here for a whole modern standard of education.

It is hard to believe that any government has so much power over this nation, for good or evil, as a lot of excited people seem to think.

Japan can't go much farther without bumping into Russia; and when yellow meets red, then comes the tug of war.

The birds and animals grow more hopeful, as hunters start using bows and arrows instead of guns.

LATE ANDREW MELLON CLEARED OF INCOME TAX FRAUD CHARGES

UNITED STATES BOARD OF TAX APPEALS ALSO REDUCES CLAIM TO $700,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The United States board of tax appeals cleared the late Andrew W. Mellon today of income tax fraud charges and reduced a government tax claim against him from $3,075,103 to about $700,000.

Agreeing with a Pittsburgh grand jury which in 1934 refused to indict the former secretary of the treasury for tax fraud, the board asserted Mellon "did not file a false and fraudulent return with intention to evade taxes."

The opinion said Mellon conducted various stock transactions in 1931 to reduce his taxes. But it held the dealings were legal and in accordance with supreme court decision which said "there is not even a patriotic duty to increase one's taxes."

Immediately acclaiming the ruling as a "victory" Mellon's attorney, Donald D. Shepard, commented:

"We deeply regret that Mr. Mellon did not live to read the repudiation of that charge (fraud) which the decision rendered today has settled."

The Pittsburgh banker and industrial magnate died last summer at the age of 82.

Overruled Major Claims.

The tax board overruled major government claims for additional taxes on Mellons' 1931 income but granted the late financier an offsetting deduction for part of the income on which he did pay taxes. He was awarded an approximately $100,000 deduction for a gift of five priceless paintings which are included in the $50,000,000 art gallery he gave to the government not long before his death. In 1931, he gave the paintings to the A. W. Mellon Educational and Charitable Trust.

The deduction was more than offset in amount, however, by government victories on some other points. The government was awarded about $400,000 and interest on the sale of the McClintic-Marshall Corporation to the Bethehem Steel Corporation and smaller amounts on some minor dividend questions. Interest charges, government attorneys said, will mount to about 35 per cent of the awards.

Decision Complicated.

The 125 page decision was so complicated even the legal experts who have worked on the case since 1934 said, they would be unable to compute the exact tax result until omorrow. The Mellon estate, however, was estimated to have saved approximately $1,700,000 when the board upheld Mellon's deduction for losses on the sale of Pittsburgh Coal Company stock to the Union Trust Company and anther $1,000,000 when the board overruled fraud charges which carry special penalties.

The tax board's decision, which can be contested in the courts either by the treasury or the Mellon estate, marks another step in litigation which has been pending since March 29, 1934.

The government filed the tax claim with the contention Mellon's gross income in 1931 was $13,482,660 whereas he had lister a gross income of 6,758,707 in making his tax return.

CONGRESS

ators were expected to block that procedure.

The wage-hour bill comes up automatically in the house next Monday but leaders intend to follow it with housing legislation.

The house labor committee met this morning to consider alterations to the wage-hour bill.

The senate was less hopeful than the house of getting a farm bill vote by Saturday, but attempts were being made to negotiate compromises on controversial issues.

Revision Attempt to Lose

Attempts to revise the farm legislation were defeated yesterday in both senate and house.

The senate rejected, 38 to 37, a proposal by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) to prevent imposition of marketing quotas for corn unless the carryover exceeds 15 per cent of the normal supply.

The senate also turned down an amendment by Republican Leader McNary which would have eliminated authority for the secretary of agriculture to require corn and wheat farmers to store up to 20 per cent of their current crops.

The house rejected two changes objectionable to Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the agriculture committee. They were:

Provisions suggested by Rep. Patman (D-Tex) calling for the government to make mandatory loans on all crops in an attempt to raise the farm income to the 1909-1914 or "parity," level.

A proposal by Rep. Lucas (D-Ill) to substitute mandatory corn loans for the bill's provisions for the bill's provisions for loans at the discretion of Secretary Wallace and the commodity credit corporation.

McDonald to Fight For Allotment Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9—(AP)—J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, said today rejection of a domestic allotment cotton plan by the house Tuesday would make him redouble his efforts to have the senate adopt it.

C. C. Hanson, secretary of the Southern Commissioners of Agriculture, expressed similar determination.

The plan would give farmers a parity price for the portion of their crop used domestically, allowing the remainder to be exported at world prices.

"The farm bills as they are now written would be ruinous to the Southern farmers," McDonald said.: "They would destroy our world market and thereby seriously affect commerce in the South, as well as the farmer." McDonald said he had received telegrams signed by 100 Houston firms, and from the Galveston Cotton Exchange and Board of Trade, urging the adoption of a domestic allotment plan.

Similar telegrams were received by Senators Sheppard and Connally of Texas. Both said, however, they favored the administration's bill.

New Tax Revision Plans Considered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—New proposals for tax revision received attention today of congressman and other government officials in discussions of the business situation.

These developments were noted:

1. Congressional leaders expresesd aproval of a suggestion by Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board, that the way to halt the business recession is to balance industrial and agricultural prices.

2. Senator Minton (D-Ind) proposed enactment of a gross income tax, with virtually no exemptions, to balance the federal budget.

3. A house tax subcommittee proceeded with its efforts to lighten the undistributed profits levy. It ignored a suggestion from the Brookings Institute, a private research agency, that the tax be abolished altogether.

4. Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the recontruction finance corporation said after a white house conference that the railroads have "got to have increased revenues, or be subsidized."

5. Secretary Roper reported 1937 foreign trade would total $6,500,000,000, almost a third better than 1936 and 118 per cent above 1932. He said he exected a favorable trade balance of $100,000,000, three times that of last year.

Seek Water Conservation Fund.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Representative Hope (R-Kas.) said today he understood Representative Jones (D-Texas) planned to ask congress to appropriate $2,000,000 at its next session for 1938 water conservation projects in the Great Plains states.

The Jones bill, authorizing all types of water conservation projects in the Dust Bowl and Gerat Plains drought areas, provided congress might appropriate any amount deemed necessary to carry on the work.

Would Increase Relief Fund.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Representative Ellenbogen (D-Pa.) introduced a bill today to increase this year's relief appropriation from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000.

Plan Tax Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Chairman Sumners (D.-Tex.) said today the house judiciary committee would consider recommending a constitutional amendment to permit federal taxation of salaries of state and municipal employes, and of interest, now tax exempt, on federal state and municipal securities.

Discuss Road Cut Plans.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Representative McFarlane (D-Tex) declared today "heat has been applied to congress by lobbyists for road material salesmen" since the president proposed a sharp reduction in federal highway aid.

He said these interests and some state highway departments had always considered the federal government "Santa Claus," and added they had the support of groups which heretofore had called loudly for a balanced budget.

"If we are going to cut down on expenditures," he said, "we might as well start there."

Senator Connally (D.-Tex.) said he believed reductions in federal spending should be made elsewhere than in road expenditures "because this money had meant widespread employment throughout the states and results that will be enjoyed by everyone for years to come."

Senator Sheppard (D-Tex.) said he favored "as large an amount of federal aid as possible" for state highways.

Seek Government Cotton Purchase

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Senator Smith (D.-S. C.) announced today a group of southern senators would ask government purchase of cotton in an effort to raise prices to 12 cents a pound.

The chairman of the senate agriculture committee said he would offer an amendment to the pending farm bill to require the Commodity Credit Corporation to buy cotton until the average market price reached 12 cents a pound on middling 7-8 inch cotton.

Smith announced this plan after a lengthy conference with southern senators and Chairman Jesse H. Jones of theReconstruction Finance Corporation.

Smith said Jones was "in practical accord with this." He also claimed support of Senators George (D-Ga), Hatch (D-NM), Bilbo (D-Miss), Bankhead, (D-Ala), and Thomas (D-Okla).

The chairman explained that the amendment would force the government controlled Commodity Credit Corporation to enter the open market and buy cotton as long as the price was under 12 cents a pound, with required purchases of up to 6,000,000 bales.

The cotton group, Smith said, was unable to compute the cost of his proposal. He declared, however, the government "would not lose a cent because it would put prices up to 12 cents."

The veteran senator said the R. F. C. had ample funds to finance the purchases.

Snell Talks on Birthday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Republican House Leader Snell of New York, observing his 67th birthday, took the administration to task today for what he termed the "chaotic conditions" in congress.

He predicted the special session of congress would be "a flop" and asserted President Roosevelt alone is responsible.

Plans Keep Rent Down.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Nathan Straus, administrator of the government's new $526,000,000 low-rent housing program, expressed determination today to keep rents down to what slum-dwellers can pay.

Protest CCC Funds Cut.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—A house steering subcommittee protested to President Roosevelt today against a budget bureau proposal to cut the Civilian Conservation Corps appropriation for the next fiscal year by $75,000,000.

Fail Reach Agreement.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The house labor committee failed today to reach an agreement on proposed sweeping changes in administrative provisions of the wages and hours bill.

Committee members said the group was "all split up" but would resume consideration later in the day of the proposed changes which would substitute a single administrator for the present five-member independent board.

Coincident with the committee meeting, about 75 house members attended a private session of an unofficial steering committee supporting the bill and heard Speaker Bankhead and Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Texas) urge them to "stand by the administration."

Heavy Northwest Texas Yield Has Boosted Cotton

AUSTIN, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Unprecedented yields in Northwest Texas boosted the estimate of the state's cotton production to 5,230,000 bales as of Dec. 1, the Austin office of the U. S. Crop Reporting board said today.

The new estimate was 3.6 per cent greater than the November forecast and compared with 2,933,000 bales produced in 1936, 2,956,000 in 1935 and an average production for the five-year period ended in 1932 of 4,580,000 bales.

The estimated lint yield was 198 pounds per acre, compared with 121 in 1936 and 133 in 1935.

The board said conditions in Northwest Texas have been almost ideal for the entire season. Production in the area, placed at 1,024,000 bales, was 200,000 more than the November 1 forecast.

Texas ginnings prior to Dec. 1 were 4,492,000 running bales, compared with 2,712,000 a year ago. The board estimated 90 per cent of the crop had been ginned compared with 96 per cent to the same date last year.

Beware The Cough
From a common cold
That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote, perfectly blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion "tops" for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible, and active in going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is generally found satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones that start as just a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained from the very first bottle of Creomulsion. Don't worry through another sleepless night—use Creomulsion.

Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product, and the relief that you want. (Adv.)

SPANISH GOVERNMENT DEFENSES LIKENED TO ROW OF DOMINOES—WHEN ONE FALLS OTHERS FOLLOW

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Edward J. Neil has just finished six months with the Spanish insurgent armies. During that time he covered at first hand Generalissimo Francisco Franco's major campaigns. In the following account, written while he was vacationing in London, Neil gives an analysis of insurgent strategy to end the war.)

By EDWARD J. NEIL

LONDON — (Correspondence of the Associated Press.) — The defenses of the Spanish republican government—to Generalissimo Francisco Franco's strategists—are a row of dominoes on end, ready to topple one after the other when the first is knocked over.

And the first domino is Lerida, deep in a beautiful river valley of the northeastern mountains 80 air miles east of Zaragoza.

The other dominoes in order are Barcelona, Valencia and Madrid; and when the toppling starts, the strategists say, the actual fighting will be over in two months and the war cleaned up before the end of its second year. It is now in its 17th month.

Ranged in the bitter cold of the Aragon front between Huesca and Zaragoza a quarter of a million of Franco's insurgent soldiers are ready for a push at the first domino, Lerida, and the civil struggle is stirring again to a climax.

Lerida lies in the line of Franco's impending march toward Barcelona, Spanish capital, and the Mediterranean coast. It dates back to the days of the Roman empire.

In all the centuries of Spanish war history, Lerida, now a center for huge Barcelona's water and electric supplies, never has fallen without the populous seaport, only another 80 miles further east, toppling thereafter.

This is the strategists' scheme:

Facing capture in Barcelona, as the "key" to the capital fell, the government of Premie Juan Negrin would flee up the Mediterranean coast and across the border into France, leaving the multi-factioned government leaderless.

Barcelona, rich and never very eager for the conflict, an industrial center with its mind on business, would capitulate—just as Bilbao surrendered, Santander gave up, and Gijon fell in the north, all before Franco's troops even reached them.

Barcelona's surrender would bring Valencia, stripped of all assistance, tumbling down, and with Valencia would come Madrid, old capital city and a symbol of devoted defense rather than a stronghold of any great military importance.

The war has changed virtually in six months. Franco's armies have swept the northwest, are by far the stronger in armament and discipline, have the active backing of Italy and Germany and no longer face the threat of French and British intervention.

A CHILD GUIDANCE FEATURE

If You're Santa, Here's Guidebook

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW
AP Feature Service Writer

NEW YORK.—Miniature dogs with wagging tails fascinate parents on a toy-buying spree. But they won't fascinate children—at least not for long.

Large blocks, tool chests or hand-manipulated derricks would make much better Christmas gifts, according to Miss Elizabeth Irwin, who has very definite ideas on suitable toys for children. Miss Irwin is principal of the Little Red School House, a progressive school in downtown New York.

Parents usually please themselves when they're shopping for toys, she says. They don't consider the child's taste or age, or durability of the objects.

So she's set up some rules for the toy-shoppers.

1. Choose toys which stimulate the child's imagination, rather than mechanical toys. Trains that run by hand are better than electric trains. Blocks fall into the same category, but the second rule also applies to them.
2. Choose toys which help children exercise their large muscles. Large blocks, trapezes, boards to fit over saw horses and the like offer a child an excellent chance for exercise. Athletic equipment, roller skates, sleds and bicycles make good gifts.
3. Select toys that don't break easily. Tools should be well made, lest hammer heads fly off and do damage. Cheap miniature automobiles are likely to lose their wheels after a few trips around the carpet.
4. Buy games of skill rather than chance. That doesn't mean total annihilation of the "chance" type of game. Quite suitable for an occasional rainy afternoon. But games involving counting and building are far more instructive, she says.

A good toy, such as a tricycle, provides exercise.

Soldiers and guns don't fall into any of these classes, but Miss Irwin puts her foot down on them because of their militaristic import. She flatly says no educator would favor them.

AGRICULTURAL SECRETARY HAS SEVEN "COMMON SENSE" WAYS TO RESTORE TRADE TO NORMALCY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Secretery Wallace introduced into business discussions today the prediction that industrial production can be increased "at least 40 per cent" within three years if farmers, workers, business men and the government co-operate.

He proposed in a radio speech last night seven "common sense" ways of restoring trade:

Home construction, equitable tax law revision, farm legislation that is fair to producers and consumers alike, enactment of a "well-drawn" wage-hour bill, maintenance of a "healthy" securities market, continued government spending until private capital takes up the slack, and continuance of reciprocal trade treaties.

Wallace's address was made almost simultaneously with the launching of a two-phase program by the Committee for Industrial Organization "to cope with the rising wave of unemployment."

Wallace also discussed the labor situation, saying:

"If farmers block the efforts of labor to maintain fair wages, they themselves will be the losers when the workers have less money to spend for farm products.

"If workers carry on strikes against fair prices for food, then they will be the losers when farmers have less money to spend for industrial products.

"If business is to strive above all to pay smaller taxes and to keep wages and farm prices down, then business will lose the market for the things it has to sell.

"Business must take the government's word that government wishes it well and business must assume those responsibilities of leadership which business claims. Otherwise government will be forced to step into the breach."

Chairman John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. News, explained that the affiliated unions propose:

"To establish unemployment committees and to take a series of definite steps to protect their jobless members; while at the same time a demand will be made upon congress to adopt legislation to cope with the problem as a whole.

Complete Human Skeleton Unearthed In Kerens Sector

KERENS, Dec. 9.—(Spl.)—Another interesting specimen has been unearthed from the sand and gravel pit on the J. L. Whorton farm. Thirty feet underground, a human skeleton was found Tuesday. Though separated, the entire framework was there, including the skull and set of teeth, with only one missing.

The oldest inhabitants cannot recall that there ever was a cemetery in the vicinity of th pit, and even should there have been one, the graves would not have been 30 feet deep.

Other specimens of bones and fossils found several weeks ago are now in use in the geology department of the University of Texas.

Sixteen Lettermen Announced Junior High School Team

Sixteen lettermen for the 1937 season were announced Thursday morning by T. E. Stone, coach of the Corsicana Junior High Panthem eleven. Five return as the nucleus for the 1938 eleven while eleven will report to the Corsicana Tigers of senior high school.

The Panthers played well during the past campaign, losing a non-conference game to the Hillsboro Reserves and one conference tussle to South Waco.

The returning lettermen for 1938 are Joe Territo, Vernon Boon, Elmer Curtis, Robert Earl Bitner and T. E. Jordan. Lettermen to report to the senior high squad are Horton Roberts, Felto Prewett, Jimmie Plyler, Harold Sawyer, Murrell Lendon, Johnny Garitty, Johnny Chirafis, Lawrance O'Rourke, J. E. Lawhon, Ishmael Granger and Kenwood Sutton.

A number of those to report to Coach John Pierce next year are fairly large boys and several are expected to make a serious bid for regular posts on the 1938 Tiger starting lineup.

Horton Roberts, fullback, was voted the most valuable and best all-round player on the team for 1937 by his mates and played every minute of each game on the schedule. He is a fine offensive and defensive back.

The lettermen and also the squadmen will be guests of August Wendorf, local sportsman, at the annual supper given the juniors a week from tonight.

WOMAN'S SENTENCE STATE PRISON WAS AFFIRMED BY COURT

AUSTIN, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Birdie Wilkins of Tarrant county faced a 25-year term in the penitentiary today when the court of criminal appeals affirmed a sentence assessed her as an accomplice in the death of her husband Oct. 25. 1936.

The appellate tribunal found no reversable error in the trial court which judged her guilty in planning with Luther E. Sumrall to put her husband's car in front of an approaching locomotive which crushed the car and fatally injured Wilkins.

The woman repudiated her confession, claiming it was coerced. Sumrall's confession stated she promised to pay him part of the proceeds from a life insurance policy on her husband.

Also affirmed was a 15-year sentence given Leonard Wilson of Ward county for robbery by firearms. The state charged he held up and robbed a group of young people near Monahans Nov. 20, 1936.

The court upheld a $200 fine assessed W. D. Stone of Falls county for aggravated assault and battery upon Mrs. Mary Beth Kerr, a public school teacher, allegedly caused by punishment of Stone's adopted daughter by the teacher.

ESTIMATE PLACES 1937 PRODUCTION AT 18,746,000 BALES

GREATEST CROP YET GROWN IN UNITED STATES INDICATED BY REPORT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The agriculture department forecast a 18,746,000 bale record cotton crop today in its final 1937 estimate.

(A bale is figured by the department at 500 pounds gross weight.)

Last month's estimate was 18,243,000 bales, an increase of 670,000 over October.

The previous record was 17,978,000 bales in 1926. Last year 12,399,000 bales came from the fields and in the five years, 1928-32, an average of 14,667,000 was produced.

The heaviest per acre yield on record caused the new production high. The department said it was indicated an average of 264.6 pounds had been grown on 33,930,000 acres.

This compared with 34,383,000 acres estimated July 1, indicating an abandonment before harvest of 1.3 per cent of land planted.

The record-breaking acre yield compared with 197.6 pounds last year and 169.9 pounds for the ten years 1923-32. The previous record yield was 223.1 pounds in 1898.

The census bureau announced that 16,178,043 running bales counting round as half bales, of cotton of this year's growth had been ginned prior to December 1, compared with 11,493,140 for 1936 and 9,356,921 for 1935.

Acre Yield and Production.

The agriculture department's estimates of the acre yield and total production this year by states follow:

Virginia, acre yield 306 pounds and production 31,000 bales; North Carolina 336 and 775,000, South Carolina 292 and 1,025,000, Georgia 270 and 1,490,00, Florida 166 and 40,000, Missouri 340 and 370,000, Tennessee 316 and 640,000, Alabama 294 and 1,610,000, Mississippi 368 and 2,625,000, Louisiana 333 and 1,080,000, Texas 198 and 5,230,000, Oklahoma 161 and 835,000, Arkansas 287 and 1,830,000, New Mexico 529 and 157,000, Arizona 477 and 280,000, California 553 and 710,000,—all other states 299 and 18,000, Lower California (Old Mexico) 178 and 52,000, (latter not included in California or United States.)

The ceusus bureau's ginning report showed the following ginning in running bales to Dec. 1, by states, for this year and last year:

Five Dead After Blast and Fire Wrecks Store

GLOVERSDALE, N. Y., Dec. 7.—(AP)—An explosion and fire that partially demolished a children's clothing shop left a toll of five dead today as officials sought the cause.

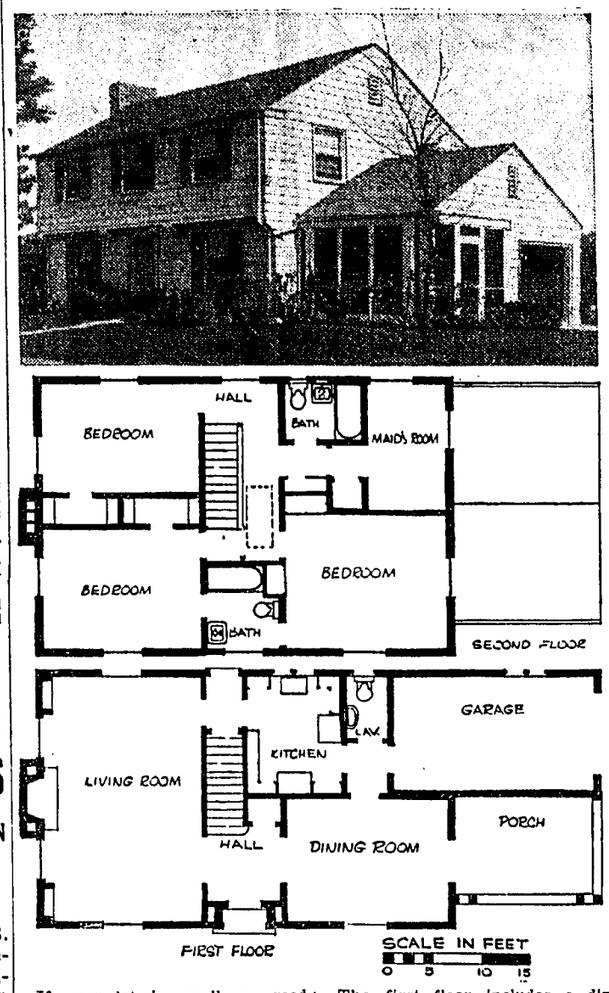

Fire Chief R. A. Maxson said the explosion apparently occurred while three men were removing a fuel oil tank from the cellar.

Edward Hall, Maandale Darling and David Stewart were trapped in the basement and burned to death. Miss Mildred Engel, 34, co-proprietor of the store and janitor, William B. Crispin, Jr., 30, died of burns.

Where's Grandma

The Purdon High School Dramatic Club will present the play, "Where's Grandma," Friday night Dec. 10th, in the Purdon Gym at 7:30 o'clock. Admission 10 and 15 cents.

PORCH AND GARAGE WING ADDS VALUE TO ANY PLAN

If your lot is small, a good idea is to include the garage in the house proper. This two-story white frame home adds a one-story wing to provide garage space and a screened porch.

Choosing the colonial clapboard effect, Architect Beresford Beck has avoided flat monotony on the front exterior by extending the upper story slightly beyond the lower, and by insetting the front entrance.

The first floor includes a dining room, three-exposure living room, kitchen, lavatory and entrance hall. Upstairs are found three master bedrooms, a maid's room and two baths. The basement has a laundry, storeroom and large playroom.

This house was built in Wilmette, Ill. The plan was selected by the Architectural Forum, 135 East 42nd street, New York, N. Y.

H. L. Wendorf, Corsicana, end with St. Mary's Rattlers of San Antonio, received honorable mention on the "Little All-America" eleven as announced today by Alan Gould, sports editor of the Associated Press. Wallace Johnson, Austin College, whose home town is Athens, Texas, center, and Burns McKinney, quarterback, Hardin-Simmons, of Wichita Falls, landed on the first team.

Longview is the favorite over Temple in their feature tilt at Longview Saturday afternoon, but this is not worrying the Wildcats and Coach Les Cranfil....Dick Miller, product of the I. O. O. F. Home here, is the spearhead of the Longview attack, and the Wildcats have been trying all week to perfect a defense that will stop him and at the same time have been trying to get a pass attack that will click. The pass attack of the Wildcats, however, against real competition has failed to click successfully this season and it does not stand to reason that one can be provided in one week's time. As to stopping Dick Miller, that's quite an assignment, something that none of the East Texas clubs has been able to do....And Longview has a win over Port Arthur Yellow Jackets early in the season....The best wishes of the District 11 enthusiasts, however, are with the Wildcats and Central Texans are pulling for the Bell countians.

In addition to being intensely interested in the Wildcats against Longview, the state favorite, Corsicanans are also watching and pulling for the Wichita Falls club against Austin of El Paso in another quarter-final engagement of the Interscholastic League race... Ted L. Jeffries, former assistant coach of Corsicana High, is head coach of the Wichita Falls Coyotes....H. D. Fillers, superintendent of Wichita Falls, formerly held a similar position with the Corsicana system.

Coach John A. Pierce is scheduled to appear on the program of the East Texas Coaches' and Officials' Association annual banquet in Tyler tonight. D. X. Bible is to be the main speaker.

Bernie Bierman, head coach of Minnesota, is being mentioned as a prospect as coach of Mississippi State College at Jackson, Miss. Bierman is quoted as saying he knows nothing of the report.... Bierman formerly was coach at Mississippi State.

Kilgore Junior College and Schreiner Institute clash tonight in Kilgore for the Texas Junior College championship...It will be brave brid enthusiasts who will sit through a football game tonight.

PLANE CRASHES INTO AUSTIN HOME; PILOT AND CHILD KILLED

PLANE WAS PILOTED BY CAPTAIN IN MEXICAN ARMY AIR CORPS

AUSTIN, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Kelly Field officers from San Antonio today were investigating the crash of an attack plane yesterday that killed the pilot and a two-year-old boy.

Leonard Albright, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer D. Albright, and Capt. F A Avelino, 29, Mexican army air corps, were dead. A thee-year-old son of the Albrights, Spencer III, was bruised and scratched when the ship plunged through the rear of the Albright home, in northwest Austin, into the boys' sleeping quarters. Mrs. Albright, who just had put the children to bed, was stunned.

Albright and a friend, David Peeler, who were in a front room, listening to a radio, were unhurt.

Two pedestrians two blocks from the scene of the crash, Hudson Anderson and Homer Sanders, said they saw the ship at an altitude of about 100 feet and that it was in a steep-vertical left Anderson said it hurtled through bank when the motor cut out, the misty atmosphere "like a streak of lightning."

The craft first struck the O. J. Herrington home, ripping off a small portion, and then imbedded itself in the rear of the Albright home, next door.

Anderson said one of the doors to the sleeping quarters was jammed and that they broke in by throwing their weight against the door.

"We started pulling away timbers and debris," Anderson said. "One of the boys was lying on the bed. He must have been stunned. He was crying a little. We lifted him and gave him to Mrs. Albright."

Avelino was a student flier at Kelly Field. Albright is an instructor in government at the University of Texas.

Avelino's Body Is Taken San Antonio

SCAN AITONIO, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Kelly Field officials this morning sent a motor ambulance to Austin to return the body of Captain F. A. Avelino, Mexican army officer who was killed in an airplane crash there last night.

Instructions to hold the body here until relatives in Mexico give instructions as to where it is to be sent were given by Mexican officials.

Meanwhile, a board of officers headed by Col. E. A. Loham, assistant commandant of Kelly Field; Lieut. Col. L. W. Ballantyne, medical corps, and Captain A. B. McConnell, appointed last night, was continuing its investigation of the accident.

Captain Avelino was flying one of 17 attack airplanes which flew to Dallas yesterday afternoon and were making a night flight back to the field.

Soon after the planes took off from Dallas, Waco reported the weather closing in.

Instructions to return to Hensley Field, near Dallas, were broadcast to members of the flight by the Kelly Field radio station.

Five of the planes did return to Hensley field, ten landed at Waco and one went back to Fort Worth. Kelly field officials expressed the belief that Captain Avelona failed to receive the instructions.

He apparently attempted to come through the bad weather and crashed into a house in Austin.

Beauty Diary of Edna Kent Forbes

CHILDREN'S FEET.

Useful facts in today's talk on choosing shoes for tender young feet.

E. K. Forbes

A survey that was conducted by the National Foot Health Council and printed in "The Journal of the National Association of Chiropodists" last May shows that small children are developing corns and blisters on their feet, practically unheard of years ago, and now becoming a common complaint. The survey has been so well handled that they found just which toes were affected between certain years. Children as young as eighteen months have had to be treated by chiropodists, and the average is from four to 12 years of age, although children of two years have been treated for corns, blisters, red spots, and callouses, showing their feet have had a great deal of abuse—something recent.

The survey was conducted among chiropodists who had many years of practice to their credit, and their investigations showed that the cause for these defects on the feet of children of varying ages came from shoe materials. This was proven because the bad conditions formed at the area where the leather folds went into heavy wrinkles as the foot was bent. The type of leather used in most children's shoes is thick and heavy. Some leather is so heavy that no linings are used with it. Prior to the war, children's shoes were made of much softer and lighter leather. Reprints from the Council's Report have been sent to shoe manufacturers and to retailers, which may bring about an improvement. Meantime, mothers may hasten it by insisting on flexible soles and soft leathers for uppers of the shoes they purchase for their children to wear.

Mrs. J. K.—The rubber patters sold for bringing the circulation to the skin are often round, flat rubber disks on a metal wire handle. You could slap one of these against the chin very easily. They usually sell for a dollar or two at the beauty shops. After the slapping, whether it is done by the fingers or with a patter, rub the skin lightly with a small piece of ice to produce reaction, and also close the pores.

Mrs. L.—Nails that are filed to a point are very ugly, and also inconvenient, as they catch in everything. Always file from the corners to the center and curve the edge attractively. Usually follow the curve of the finger tips when this is possible, but if the fingers are flat,, compromise a bit, and curve the nail enough to make the tips of the fingers appear to have a similar curve.

V.—When you cannot get powder the shade of your skin, take the next shade darker, as it will never show, while a lighter shade will be conspicuous, and never becoming. Bath powders are not so finely sifted as the powder for the face; they blow off easily, and also show on the skin. Face powder is not expensive, as it may be bought for as little as fifty cents, if economy must be considered. The finer powders cost more, up to $2.50. With either choice it will be a medium-sized box, which should last a year even if used every day. If you use your finger tips to spread the powder over your skin, you will not waste it.

If you have any beauty problems you cannot solve, write for Edna Kent Forbes' three NEW beauty booklets: 1, "Fifteen Minutes a Day for Beauty." (2) "The Finer Points of Beauty." (3) "Eating And Bathing for Beauty." Send ten cents (in stamps) for EACH booklet, to pay for printing and handling and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope (s.a.s.e.). The advance at New York yesterday, in face of the record crop estimate for 18,746,000 bales, attracted a fair overnight demand from Far East, Bombay and Liverpool.

March advanced from 8.03 to 8.06, leaving quotations shortly after the first half hour 5 to 9 points net higher.

Further moderate foreign and Wall Street buying encountered a little realizing and southern selling late in the morning.

March was selling at 8.03 and the list was 5 to 6 points net higher.

New Orleans Cotton Opens Higher

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 4 to 5 points net higher today in response to steady cables and some price fixing by the trade.

Freezing and sub-freezing weather in the belt and more favorable Washington advices continued to counteract the influence of the large crop estimate.

Dec. opened at 8.10 bid, Jan. at 8.07b, March 8.14, May 8.15, July 8.20 and Oct. 8.23. Trade was moderate after the start and prices maintained their early gains during the first thirty minutes.

Dor estic markets were quiet but the continued heavy exports and talk of a tight spot situation in the interior bolstered prices during the morning.

Near mid-session Dec. trade at 8.13, Jan. at 8.09, March at 8.18, May 8.16, July 8.20, and Dec. at 8.24, or 5 to 8 points net higher.

Railroads Ask Immediate Hike Rates and Fares

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Association of American Railroads today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for an immediate increase in freight rates and passenger fares.

The motion was made by R. V. Fletcher, general counsel of the association, during arguments on the carriers' petition for a 15 per cent flat increase in freight rates and an increase from 2 to 2 1-2 cents per mile in passenger fares in the eastern territory.

"In spite of the action of the commission in expediting this hearing," Fletcher said, "the situation is such, due to an extraordinary decline in traffic during the past few weeks, and to the increase in operating expenses, that it will be impossible for many railroads to continue the present character of transportation service to the public unless relief is obtained in the matter of increased revenues by January 1, 1938, or very soon thereafter.

The increase sought are calculated to give the carriers about $517,000,000 additional revenue, annually.

Two Railroads Plan to Spend Over Six Million

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Two railroads disclosed to the Interstate Commerce Commission today plans for spending $6,600,000 for new equipment and improvement of existing shops and rollingstock.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe asked parmission to sell $3,900,000 of 2 1-4 per cent equipment trust certificates for proposed new equipment purchases in a $4,881,088 program.

Trustees of the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad company asked approval of an $1,800,000 issue of certificates of indebtedness, to bear maximum 4 per cent interest, with proceeds to be applied to various improvements.

Corn Advances.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Corn became the star performer in the Chicago grain market today, prices rushing up 2 1-8 cents a bushel at one stage.

Export demand for corn was aggressive, and takings for overseas totaled upward of 1,000,000 bushels. A cold wave likely to increase feeding of corn to livestock also had a stimulating market effect.

Profit-taking on price advances pulled wheat down at the last.

At the close, corn futures were 1-4 to 2 cents above yesterday's finish. Dec. 5 3-4 7-8, May 58 3-4 1-2, wheat 3-4 1-2 down, Dec. 96 1-4 3-8, May 93 3-8 1-2, and oats unchanged to 1-4 off.

JEAN DeKOVEN

taxi driver named Couffy, and Arthur Frommer, once a friend of the killer.

Weidmann was arrested at the St. Cloud villa yesterday after a gun fight with police. He admitted the slayings, police said, after long questioning.

Weidmann was quoted as telling police he kidnaped Miss DeKoven July 23, and took her to the villa, strangling her there the next day.

Police said the motive in all five confessed killings was robbery.

Created Major Mystery.

The strange disappearance of Miss DeKoven last July 23 created a major mystery which baffled French investigators for months. She was last seen alive walking out of the Studio hotel where she lived with her aunt, Mrs. Ida Sackheim.

Police, tracing the slimmest of clues, learned she had spent $500 in Travelers checks. The hunt was confused later by demands for her ransom but police never succeeded in finding the sender of these ransom demands.

It was the discovery of the rental agent's body in a cellar of the villa that led investigators into the baffling DeKoven case.

That gruesome find put authorities on the trail of a German who had made an appointment with the rental agent, Raymond Lesobre, to inspect the vacant villa as a possible tenant.

It was a rendezvous with violent death for the rental agent.

Detectives finally located Weidmann in St. Cloud. Three detectives were dispatched yesterday afternoon to arrest him.

He put up a struggle. Two of the officers were wounded. They overpowered Weidmann, however, and took him to headquarters for questioning.

RALLY IN STOCK MARKET MET MORE OPPOSITION TODAY

LEADING ISSUES DECLINED FROM FRACTIONS TO POINT OR MORE

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Buying support weakened in the stock market today and many leaders slipped fractions to 2 points.

While a handful of specialties, principally those of 10-share trading units, managed to contest the trend for sizeable advances, major steels, motors and coppers gave ground easily at the last.

There were mild rallying intervals, but these lacked power, and the list generaly skidded to around the lows of the day in the final hour.

Dealings were slow from the start, transfers being around 1,000,000 shares.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The stock market rally met more opposition today and leading issues backed away fractions to a point or so.

Dealings were quiet most of the time and extreme declines were shaded in many cases near the fourth hour.

While the current business and political pictures provided little inspiration for buying forces, brokers found customers a bit more hopeful the trade recession may be approaching bottom. At that, some speculative contingents generally appeared to be waiting more concrete evidence of a turn for the better.

Bonds on the whole, displayed an inclination to move higher. U. S. governments were in demand following announcement the treasury's latest refunding bonds and notes were heavily oversubscribed. Commodities were uneven.

Among stocks inclined to drift lower the greater part of the day were Inland Steel, General Motors, Boeing, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, North American, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, U. S. Smelting, Phelps Dodge, American Can, Union Pacific, Loew's, Philip Morris, J. S. Penney, Owens-Illinois, Paramount and Celanese. Some of these subsequently came back moderately.

Unchanged to improved were Great Northern, Texas Corp., Union Carbide and Eastman Kodak.

Coppers were forced to contend with another cut in the price of the domestic metal to 10 1-4 cents a pound by important smelters, a new low for the year.

Curb Trend Mixed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—A number of higher-priced specialties moved up fractions to 4 points in share trading on the clrb exchange today but trends generally were mixed.

Aluminum of America, Peppercll, Todd Shipyards, Detroit Steel Products and Pan American Airways were up 1 to more than 2 toward midday. Montgomery Ward A spurted 4 on a small transaction.

Small losses, as yesterday's advance lost momentum, were posted for Electric Bond & Share, Creole Petroleum and Northern States Power.

WELL IN CORPUS SECTOR RUNNING WILD THURSDAY

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Great Ail Corporation's No. 3 Isensee, oil test in the Saxet field eight miles west of here, was running wild today after blowing out during the night.

With a roar plainly audible in Corpus Christi and surrounding territory, the well is making considerable gas and some mud and water. There is constant danger of it catching fire and it was making heads of dry gas every few minutes.

Expensive drilling equipment was being pulled out of the danger zone. The well is in an area considered extremely dangerous because shallow sands have been charged with gas by an old blowout several years ago. Two other wells in that vicinity blew out earlier this year.

Crews of the M. M. Kinley Co., of Houston, will make attempts later in the day to cap the gasser.

TWO TEXAS YOUTH FOUND GUILTY OF NEW MEXICO MURDER

CLOVIS, N. M., Dec. 9.—(AP)—A district court pury, after 12 hours deliberations, found two Pampa, Texas, youths guilty of second degree murder today in the shotgun slaying of Ed Hargus, Roosevelt county farmer.

The defendants, Marvin McEntire, 22, and Ray Jackson, 17, smiled as the verdict was read. Their faces sobered when Judge Harry L. Patton pronounced a sentence of 99 years imprisonment, the maximum penalty.

Hargus' shot-riddled body was found in a shallow sand grave near his farm last August 1. He had been slain three days before.

McEntire and Jackson, who had been employed by Hargus but disappeared shortly after the shooting, were arrested several months later in Fort Smith, Ark.

Testimony at the trial re-opened investigation of the slaying of William Gabriel, a recluse found hacked to death in Roosevelt county a year before Hargus was killed.

Jackson admitted he shot Hargus, but maintained McEntire forced him to do so at pistol point because the farmer "knew too much" about McEntire's alleged guilt in the Gabriel killing.

McEntire denied knowledge of either slaying.

SENATE REJECTED AMENDMENT PLACING LIMIT FARM BILL

HOUSE DEBATING COMPULSORY CONTROL FOR COTTON FEATURE OF BILL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The senate rejected today an amendment by Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, to limit operation of the farm bill to three years—1938-40.

The vote was 51 to 25.

Friends of the bill regarded the vote as a highly favorable test of the bill's strength in the senate.

Voting against the amendment were 47 Democrats and three independents. Fourteen Republicans were joined by 11 Democrats in favor of McNary's proposal.

Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.) contended the amendment would serve as a threat to the agricultural markets as it would leave undetermined the status of crops stored in the "ever-normal" granary when the bill expired in 1940.

When McNary was voted down, Senator Borah (R-Idaho) proposed an amendment to eliminate a requirement that corn and wheat farmers must sign adjustment contracts in order to continue receiving present soil conservation payments.

The senate deferred final action on that, leaving the way open for Borah to renew his suggestion later.

Another Borah amendment was approved. It re-worded the loan authorization provision to make loans available on "all agricultural commodities."

Would Set Up Lending Corporation

The bill would set up a lending corporation, with $100,000,000 federal capital.

Also approved was an amendment by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) which would restore soil conservation payments on cotton in the event of the ending of the compulsory control program with its parity payments.

Asserting the legislation presented "a spectacle of disjointed relationships," McNary had argued that a three-year period "will give us some time to try out this measure, which is an emergency measure after all."

Senator Pope (D-Ida.), co-author of the measure, answered that McNary's proposal would "seriously injure" the program.

Pope added that the amendment would violate a pledge which he said congress made at the last session for consideration of permanent farm legislation at this session.

The house, meanwhile, resumed debate on compulsory control of cotton through marketing qutas, after rejecting a proposal by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.) to make controlled planting effective in 1938. The bill provides for delaying operation of that feature until 1939.

Opponents of compulsory crop control sought other modifications of the pending measure, with hopes aroused by tentative house approval yesterday of elimination of a section imposing farmer-approved marketing quotas for wheat whenever surpluses might lower prices.

Rep. Coffee (D-Neb), who suggested the change, said he would attempt the same procedure when the compulsory corn control section is discussed.

Rep. Kleberg (D-Tex) offered another amendment, on which action was deferred, to modify the control provisions for cotton.

Administration leaders will try to overturn the wheat decision and any other changes when a final vote is taken—perhaps Thursday—on the entire bill.

"We've just begun to fight," said Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the agriculture committee.

Declared Feature Unconstitutional

During discussion yesterday of Coffee's wheat amendment, Jones declared that without the marketing provisions wheat prices would collapse.

Coffee, however, contended the wheat marketing quotas were unquestionably unconstitutional. He described as "confiscatory" the penalty tax of 15 cents a bushel for sale of any wheat produced aboce quota limitations.

Rep. Wadworth (R-NY) asserted the farm bill, if enacted, "spells Hitlerism" for the United States.

The senate, meanwhile, was voting even more slowly on dozens of amendments. Senators who helped frame the "ever-normal granary" measure predicted a final vote late this week, but critics insisted it may not be reached until next week, if then.

Senators Borah (R-Idaho), McNary (R-Ore), Vandenberg (R-Mich), and Copeland (D-NY) kept hammering away at the measure as each section was read.

Administration chieftains were devoting most of their attention to the farm legislation in an attempt to complete it quickly.

They virtually had given up hope of enacting the rest of the program before pre-Christmas adjournment, with the possible exceptions of the wage-hour bill and revision of the housing law.

Federal Bill Wanted.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 7.—(AP)—A federal unemployment insurance bill will be the next big problem of railroad brotherhoods, George M. Harrison, grand pesident of the Brotherhoods of Railway and Steamship Clerks, said today.

"State laws which have no uniformity are unworkable," Harrison said, "and cannot possibly be adapted to an organization like ours whicvh knows no state lines."

Mileage Fund Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Congress has authorized a $222,000 mileage fund to pay members' travel expenses to and from the special session.

There was laughter, but little opposition, when Chairman Taylor (D-Colo.) of the house appropriations committee offered the proposal yesterday as a resolution which "speaks for itself."

The house passed it, 327 to 37, and the senate followed suit a few minutes later.

Each senator and representative is entitled to 20 cents a mile for the round trip, whether he goes home or stays in Washington for the Christmas recess.

TIGER LOYALTY BANQUET BE HELD NEXT THURSDAY EVE

LARGE AMOUNT OF BUSINESS TRANCASTED BY CIVITANS LUNCHEON CLUB

A large volume of business, including a decision to have the annual Tiger Loyalty banquet next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the Third Avenue Presbyterian church, was discussed at today's luncheon meeting of the Civitan club at the Navarro Hotel. Mrs. J. W. McAdams, R. N., school nurse, made a short talk, and enlisted the support of the club in the purchase of glasses for children in the schools who have defective vision.

Rev. Roy A. Langston, pastor of the First Methodist church, was a guest today, and spoke briefly. Todays' program committee was made up of Dr. E. P. Norwood and C. L. Brown, Jr., and President Ed Wendorf appointed Dr. J. Wilson David and H. W. Keathley as the program committee for Dec. 30.

Mrs. McAdams explained the nature of her work, which takes her into the 55 classrooms to inspect 2,500 or more students, and of visits to their homes for case work. She told of the squalor seen in many of the homes, and cited the cases of some children who are getting an education under very difficult circumstances. She said many of the pupils have defective vision, and they cannot do good work in school suffering this handicap. She asked the club if it would assist in buying glasses for some of the children.

Business Session.

At the business session, it was voted to hold the annual Tiger Loyalty banquet next Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the Third Avenue Presbyterian church, and President Wendorf appointed several committees. He named L. K. Carraway and L. M. Morton to work with Tom L. Tyson as the program committee, and appointed Robert Cason, Charlie Bee, and F. C. Paul as ticket committee.

The club voted not to meet Tuesday, Dec. 23, and to give the money that would be spent for the luncheon to the I. O. O. F. Home to buy toys for the children. Festus A. Pierce thanked the club members for their assistance in the Red Cross annual roll call, and O. F. Allen reported on the good citizenship placard contest in the junior high school. President Wendorf appointed Mr. Allen, F. A. Pierce and Charles T. Banister as judges for the contest.

Two new members, Andrew Northington and Charlie Bee, were installed by Rev. E. T. Miller, club chaplain.

'Tramp' Firms To Be Refused Permit For Texas Business

AUSTIN, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Edward Clark, secretary of State, announced today permits to do business in Texas would not be granted in the future to what he termed "tramp" corporations.

He defined "tramp" corporations as those whose charters had been obtained in other states by citizens of Texas for the sole purpose of transacting business in Texas.

Clark said the practice of granting permits to such foreign corporations discriminated against domestic bodies.

Stockholders of "tramp" corportions were not required to comply with capital stock requirements prescribed for domestic corporations, Clark said. Jurisdiction of state courts also may be evaded more easily," he added.

Marlin Sandlin, assistant secretary of state, said when existing permits expired they would not be renewed.

AUSTIN, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Willis Van Devanter, former Justice of the United States Supreme Court, inspected Texas' red granite statehouse today in the company of Governor James V. Allred.

"It is a very fine building," he commented.

Later he visited the governor's mansion. He also met members of Texas supreme court.

The former justice has been hunting in Southwest Texas and said he had "good luck." He bagged one deer and two javelinas, a species of wild hog.

Last night he was a dinner guest of the Travis County Bar Association. He planned to return to Houston late today.

He recalled his early acquaintance with C. M. Cureton, now chief justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, who in earlier years represented the state in many cases before the federal tribunal.

"I thought Texas was something then," the former Associate Justice said, "and I think it is even more now."

McLellan Store Damaged By Fire At Noon Tuesday

Damage estimated by Fire Chief El L. Keith at $3,500 resulted from a fire that followed a heater explosion in the McLellan store in the 100 block on North Beaton street about 12:30 Tuesday.

Two or more of the outer windows in the display cases were damaged as well as some of those on the backs of the windows, and one section or more of the counters along with their contents and those of the shelves were damaged extensively according to Chief Keith.

According to versions of the incident given the fire chief by employes of the store, a heater near the southeast corner of the building "exploded" and flames were immediately visible and spread rapidly among some highly inflammable merchandise.

U. S. ROAD BUREAU ASKED TO APPROVE BIG EXPENDITURE

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION ASKS GOVERNMENT FOR ALMOST EIGHT MILLIONS

AUSTIN, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The highway commission today asked the U. S. bureau of public roads to approve expenditure of $7,957,610 in federal aid to match an equal amount of state funds for road improvement next fiscal year.

Chairman Robert Lee Bobbitt said the bureau's action probably would be determined by congress' disposal of a recommendation by President Roosevelt to reduce federal aid.

"If the President's proposal is adopted," he said, "it will mean no funds will be immediately available for the program."

The chairman said the program contemplated improvement of 905 miles of major arterial highways, including 640 miles of pavement to close gaps.

The commission previously approved a grade elimination program for 1939, costing $2,725,000 and to be paid entirely with federal funds and a secondary or lateral road improvement plan costing $3,183,000 of which 50 per cent would be federal aid.

Bobbitt pointed out completion of all three programs hinged upon congress' action.

Parts of western Pennsylvania lay under 18 inches of snow. There were four-foot drifts in spots, while the thermometer dived to zero in many rural sections.

Snow fell at Amarillo, Texas, and other parts of Texas, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia last night. Forecasts in Florida, however, indicated temperature readings would be above the mark of danger for crops.

ATLANTA, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The second cold wave of the week moved into the South today, marked by snow flurries in many areas.

Weather observers predicted sub freezing temperatures tonight in the northern part of the Florida Peninsula. Recovering from a wintry siege that ended yesterday, Florida growers have not determined fully the extent of damage to vegetable crops.

Latest information indicated the valuable citrus industry escaped with only minor damage.

The storm also palalyzed traffic on many roads in Central and Northern New York. Hundreds of cars wert stalled in drifts.

vention of the National Association of Manufacturers he declared capital and labor "not only must get along, but can get along together," and asserted the government attitude "in the present situation" was "one of the biggest stumbling blocks to a rational get-together.

Today was designated in the pogram as "labor day" and devoted to problems of the relationships between management and workers.

Asserting that "a critical business recession has set in," Weir pleaded for co-operation between labor and capital.

"What we need now," he said, "are leaders who think not in terms of labor alone, of farmers alone, of consumers alone, or of sectionalism."

Amendment of the national labor relations act was one of the means by which co-operation could be secured, Weir declared.

"If corporations," he said, "are to be expected to deal with labor unions, then the unions should be required to make themselves as responsible as the corporations.
